The Honorable Judge

P. O. Box 368
Richmond, Texas 77469

Dear Judge Stavinoha:

I would appreciate any consideration from you or Commissioners Court regarding Commissioner Ben Denhams plans or request to erect a cyclone fence around the county property where the Jake Dove Senior Center in Arcola is located.

We have been plagued with repeated break-ins, broken windows, vandalism and just recently had a television set stolen that the Senior Citizens had bought for their site. We have even had a spare tire and jack stolen in the daytime while the Senior Citizens were at the site for the meal and activities from our van used to transport them to and from the site.

I and the participants at the site feel that a fence around the property would certainly help in security for our site as well as the Commissioner's building and equipment.

Once again, thank you so very much for yours and the Commissioners support of our services as an Agency for the elderly of Fort Bend County.

Respectively,

Jean

JURY SELECTION PLAN

Adopted ~~February~~ MARCH 1983, V.A.T.S. Art. 2100a

It is recommended to the Commissioners' Court of Fort Bend County, Texas, by the Judges of the District Courts and County Courts of Fort Bend County, Texas, that this plan for the selection of persons for jury service be adopted:

A. The source from which names shall be taken is the voter registration lists of all precincts in Fort Bend County as certified by the Registrar of Voters of Fort Bend County.

B. The Clerk of the District Courts is designated as official to be in charge of the selection process and who is assigned the duties hereinafter enumerated.

C. At least 24 hours before a jury is to be selected, the Registrar of Voters of Fort Bend County, Texas, will deliver and certify to the Clerk of the District Courts of Fort Bend County, a listing, typed or printed in the English language of the current voter registration lists from all precincts in Fort Bend County (sorted alphabetical order) and (2) copies of the said voter registration listings entered on a reel of data processing magnetic tape in a language readable by an electronic data processing machine.

The District Clerk will protect the listings from further writing and will keep them securely stored.

The "Certified Registered Voters Tape" mentioned above is to be marked and dated. It is to supersede any other "Registered Voters Tape" in the "Jury Wheel" for the selection of prospective jurors.

The District Clerk has caused to be designed an electronic data processing system and programmed said system into a set of instructions which will cause an electronic data processing machine (electronic digital computer) to select from a "Prospective Jurors Tape", by a fair, impartial, and objective method, a list of persons to be called for jury service. The number of persons so selected will be determined by the Judge requesting the jury.

The above system is known as the Jury Selection Program. Said program having been documented and tested is directed to be recorded in the minutes of the District Courts as the system to be followed in jury selections and is marked Exhibit A for identification and is attached hereto.

The voter registration listing on magnetic tape and the selection program on magnetic tape shall constitute the "jury wheel".

The orginal and one (1) duplicate of said "jury wheel" tapes shall be deposited in containers constructed of any durable material and will be known as the jury wheel, which shall kept locked at all times, except when in use as hereinafter provided, by the use of two (2) separate locks, so arranged that the key to one will not open the other lock; and said wheel, and the clasps thereto attached into which the locks shall be fitted, shall be so arranged that the wheel cannot be opened unless both of said locks are unlocked at the same time the wheel is opened. The keys to such locks shall be kept, one by the Sheriff and the other by the District Clerk. The Sheriff and the Clerk shall not open such wheel, nor permit the same to be opened by any person, except at the time and in the manner and by the persons herein specified, but said Clerk shall keep such wheel, when not in use, in a safe and secure place.

At the direction of the appropriate Judge, when it is necessary to create a jury list, the District Clerk or her deputy shall cause the magnetic tapes to be transported to an electronic data processing computer machine, which is equal to or superior to an electronic data processing computer machine known as the Hewlett-Packard Model 3000/44, and she shall in the presence of the Sheriff or his deputy, open the jury wheel in which the certified "Jury Wheel" tapes are stored. The District Clerk or her deputy will then cause to be loaded into the computer the certified voter registration listing and the program to select names and addresses of persons to create a Prospective Jurors List.

The set of instructions used to select names from the certified voter list shall follow the system outlined in the above mentioned documentation.

At the time that the Prospective Jurors List is to be prepared, the Clerk or her deputy, the Sheriff or his deputy, and the appropriate Judge or his deputy, shall each enter three (3) digits of a nine (9) digit number known at the "Seed Number" to start the selection generator.

The Clerk shall cause a job occurrence report to be made of the instructions entered into the computer to perform the jury selection task each time said selection is made and said Clerk shall file such print out until said jury for the week has been discharged.

The magnetic tape and the "Seed Number" shall be kept by the District Clerk in a sealed envelope within the jury wheel, and not opened except by Court Order until said jury for the week has been discharged. At that time the tapes are to be stored in a safe, secure, climate controlled, place for a period of one (1) year.

The District Clerk shall cause the prospective jurors selected by the jury selection program to be printed out on a list showing names and addresses of persons to be summoned to begin jury service on a particular date. (Said list shall be filed on record with the County Clerk at least ten (10) days prior to the date such persons are to begin jury service.) Additional lists may be produced to facilitate the handling of the necessary paper work in processing said jury list.

To provide additional guide lines to the District Clerk for creating the jury wheel tapes and the jury selection process, in order to provide jurors, for the District Courts, and the County Court-at-Law, the District Clerk is hereby instructed to:

1) For all Civil and Criminal Courts to make a random selection, thru a process depending solely on generated random numbers, from the Jury Wheel Tape to create a Prospective Juror List of names to serve in the requesting Court.
2) Summons the number of jurors for the jury days as directed by the requesting Judge from the Prospective Juror List.

The District Clerk shall be in charge of the jury selection process and she will be responsible for seeing that the names of all qualified jurors on the voter registration lists are on the magnetic tapes, and that the selection of jurors is made impartially and at random. It will also be her duty to see that the jury lists are prepared and the notification letters mailed by first class mail (V.A.T.S. Article 2100a, Sections 1,2,3).

All costs incident to this plan shall be paid out of the Jury Fund.

EXXON COMPANY, U.S.A.

September 24, 1980

R/W File 62139

Attention: Commissioners' Court

Gentlemen:

Exxon Corporation is the operator of certain wells and related facilities in the Randall Jones Survey, A-42 and the William Morton Survey, A-62, as well as various other surveys in Fort Bend County, Texas in the area known as Pecan Grove. In connection with the operation of these wells and related facilities, it will be necessary from time to time for Exxon to construct pipelines and cables alongside of and across certain Fort Bend County roads. In order that the Commissioners' Court of Fort Bend County, Texas may except Exxon from the bond requirements of Article XX of the aforementioned Court Order, Exxon hereby agrees:

(1) To accept all duties and obligations placed on a permittee under the provisions of the aforementioned Order of the Commissioners' Court.

(2) To act as a self-insurer and to indemnify and hold Fort Bend County harmless from all loss, damage or injury of any kind which may result to the County by reason of any failure on the part of Exxon to comply with any of the terms and provisions of the aforementioned Order, or by reason of the negligence of Exxon, Exxon's agents or employees in the construction, reconstruction, alteration, repair, extension, or laying of pipelines or cables.

Exxon's obligation hereunder will become effective on the date this letter is approved and accepted by the Commissioners' Court of Fort Bend County, Texas.

This letter, upon acceptance by the Commissioners' Court of Fort Bend County, Texas, will satisfy the requirements of Article XX of the aforementioned Court Order. If at any time thereafter the Commissioners' Court should find that Exxon is not financially responsible and capable of meeting the bond obligations set forth in the Court Order, the Commissioners' Court may withdraw approval of this letter. However, that action by the Commissioners' Court will not be effective until after thirty (30) days notice to Exxon. In addition, if within that period Exxon posts a cash bond, then no permit shall be cancelled as a result of the withdrawal of approval of this letter.

Yours very truly,

BOARD MEETING

RE: 1:30 P.M. - REPORT ON WORK ACCOMPLISHED BY THE FORT BEND COUNTY DRAINAGE DISTRICT:

Stanley Kucherka, County Engineer gave a report on the work accomplished by the Fort Bend County Drainage District from last quarter of 1982 to present. (Recorded in minutes in full)

RE: ADJOURNMENT:

On Motion of Commissioner Bob Lutts, Seconded by Commissioner Alton B. Pressley, and duly passed, the court motion to adjourn at 3:45 P.M. Monday March 21, 1983.

This text gives an overview of work accomplished by the Fort Bend County Drainage District beginning January 1, 1983.

Excavation projects will be outlined first.

Excavation began in early January on Dry Creek. This part of the County's Master Drainage Plan established by the Fort Bend County Commissioners' Court. Excavation began at Smither's Lake and is progressing upstream with the channel size being a 100 foot bottom width. This is approximately tripling the channel in size.

Work has also continued on Cangelosi Ditch. The section of ditch now being worked is through natural ground. Excavation is progressing at a rate of approximately 4000 yds^3 per week. Work should be completed by the end of March, 1983.

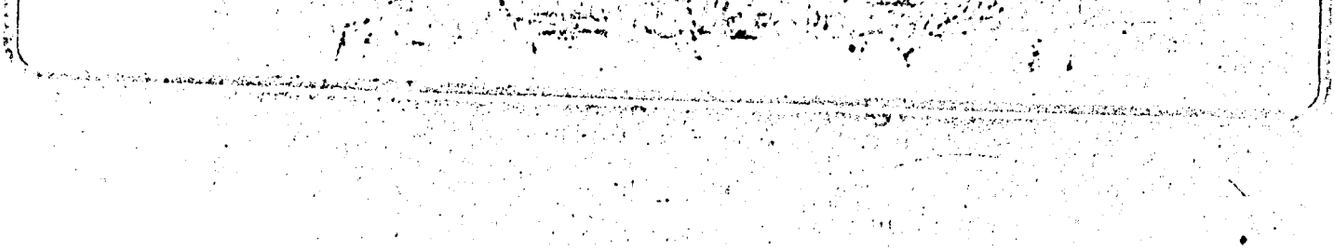

The re-alignment of a section of Fairchilds Creek Lateral II-B-10-b was accomplished. This project consisted of re-channeling approximately 1400 feet of the ditch.

Work continued on Fulshear Creek using the dragline owned by Precinct #4.

Willow Fork of Buffalo Bayou Lateral V-A-6 was also dug. Work began at Karen Road and continued to Pin Oak Road. This was done with equipment owned by Precinct #3. Work also began on the Court Road ditch. This should be completed before month's end.

Dozers began clearing the upper end of Willow Fork of Buffalo Bayou. This area of the stream was overgrown with trees and removal became necessary, Dozer work has also begun on Fairchilds Creek Lateral II-B-10-b, as well as, continuing on Fairchilds Creek. One dozer also repaired erosion damage on Deer Creek.

One dragline was used for the repair of several bridges. Many timber bridges were built in the 1950's. Some of these are now needing replacement. Two bridges on the lower end of Snake Creek were completely replaced. A third at Rout Point Road was repaired. A new bridge was also built on Turkey Creek just upstream of Darst Road. Another is almost complete on Seabourne Creek. In addition to these a low water crossing composed of 5 rows of 24" metal pipe was installed on Buffalo Creek.

In early February we began using herbicides for the control of vegetation in the ditches.

The first herbicide used was Karmex, a Du Pont product. It is a pre-emergence herbicide and therefore needed to be applied prior to spring plant growths. Approximately 1700 pounds were used in all.

The next herbicide used was 2-4-d. This herbicide must be applied before March 10 according to Texas Herbicide Laws.

The herbicide being used now is Banvel 720. This cannot be sprayed near crops, therefore we have concentrated our tractors in those areas to get as much covered before crops are planted.

The following chart shows which ditches have been sprayed with which herbicide.

KARMEX

Coon Creek II-B-3
Big Creek II-B-6
Fairchilds Creek Lateral II-B-10-b
Deer Creek II-B-5
Big Creek II-B
Gapps Slough II-B-2-a

Seabourne Creek II-B-4

2-4-d

Snake Creek I-C
Rabbs Bayou II-D
Seabourne Creek II-B-4
Big Creek II-B
E.B. Ditch I-G
Mound Creek I-A

The Drainage District currebtly employs 66 people. This includes one general superintendent, 4 foremen, 2 secretaries and other essential personnel.

Contained within this text is a summary of the Fort Bend County Drainage District's work within the last quarter of 1982. Because of the date that this summary is being written (March 1983) statements about general maintenance of individual streams (that which makes use of utility tractors and slopemowers) will be made in generalities only.

Projects requiring the use of larger equipment will be catalogued in specifics.

Work accomplished involving general maintenance consisted primarily of shredding operations with some herbicide treatment early in the quarter. No emphasis was given to any specific area of the county, therefore our equipment was widely dispersed throughout Fort Bend County. Because early winter was relatively mild shredding continued throughout the entire quarter.

Excavation was completed on Fairchilds Creek during this quarter. Work began at Janda Road and continued to the Needville city limits. The area of the stream downstream from Janda Road had been dredged previously beginning at Big Creek. Therefore, the entire Fairchilds Creek has been dredged.

Work continued on Cangelosi Ditch (the upper limits of Sims Bayou). Dredging began at F.M. 2234 and when is completed will end at the new Stafford School. Previous work improved the ditch from the Harris County line to F.M. 2234.

Work began on Fulshear Creek. Excavation began at F.M. 1093. Initial work consisted of shaping the sideslopes because the existing flowline was of sufficient depth. This project is being done with the use of equipment from Precinct #4.

Fairchilds Creek Lateral II-B-10-c was excavated for the first time. Easements were obtained just prior to beginning excavation. Work began at Fairchilds Creek and ended at the very upper end of the stream.

Work was completed on Duvall Ditch II-J. This also was the first excavation on this part of the channel. The length of excavation was just over 2 miles.

Work also continued on the excavation of Oyster Creek downstream of McKeever Road. This project is extremely important to the entire Oyster Creek watershed. The channel has a top width of approximately 130 feet. Much of the channel was cut through natural ground, therefore complete excavation of the stream's cross-section was necessary.

A stretch of approximately 1½ miles of Sugarland Ditch II-D-D was dredged utilizing equipment from Precinct #3. This job was completely finished, including the spreading of spoil dirt.

Work accomplished by the District's bulldozers consisted of clearing of right-of-way for the Oyster Creek project, as well as spreading spoil dirt on Fairchilds Creek and Sugarland Ditch.

County Clerk

Dear Diane;

It is my understanding that you are thinking about microfilming your old records and reprinting in the small books. Let me compliment you on your endeavor.

I had 212 volumes of our very earliest records, deeds and probate, done the last part of 1982. We have received our small books the first of this year and the space we saved is unbelievable. I am sorry that we did not start this project sooner as the old records are fading out and are coming to pieces. We now feel safe to know that we have the security copy of the film.

The general public is very pleased with the small books as they are easy to handle and copy. The Bar Association is quite complimentary with this project and are anxious to see the rest of the books filmed and reduced. This I plan to do in the near future.

We, the County Clerks, as keepers of the records, have the very most important records at the courthouses to preserve. Many records may be destroyed by law after a certain time, but our records are permanent and must be preserved forever.

Again, I compliment you on your recognizing the importance of our records and your desire to preserve them for generations to come.

Sincerely,

Hope Skipper

March 24, 1983

Mr. Jodie Stavinoha
County Judge
Fort Bend County Courthouse
Richmond, Texas 77469

Dear Jodie:

I am writing you this letter to support the project proposed by Dianne Wilson, County Clerk, to restore the old handwritten County Deed Records, and to convert all of the public records in her office to microfilm, with one "hard" copy and a security microfilm copy to be stored elsewhere. I am writing you this letter both as an individual and as a member of the Fort Bend County Historical Commission and the Fort Bend County Museum Executive Committee. However, I feel quite confident that the other members of this lawfirm and other attorneys in the county would generally support this project, also.

From an historical point of view, this project is appealing to the County Museum because we very much would like to receive custody of the old handwritten volumes once they have been restored. They will be a very good tool for historical and genealogical research, as well as being historical artifacts in their own right. Our only qualification from the museum is that we must find adequate storage space for the volumes, but I am sure that can be worked out. Concerning the microfilm aspect of the project, this seems to be desirable, and perhaps even a necessity, for several reasons. As I understand the situation, we are very cramped for space in the County Clerk's Office, and microfilm would relieve that problem to some extent. I believe that the microfilming process would be less expensive than providind additional physical space for more hardcover volumes of records. Also, the microfilm copies will be generally easier to examine and to make copies from. Also, having a security film copy in case of fire is a distinct advantage. My only qualification concerning this part of the project is that it be done as economically as possible.

Thank you for your time in considering this letter and the matters discussed herein. Personal regards.

Sincerely yours,

Jack H. Moore

CUSTOMER FILE

January 31, 1983

The Honorable Dianne Wilson
County Clerk, Fort Bend County
Fort Bend County Courthouse
Richmond, Texas 77469

Dear Mrs. Wilson:

I am forwarding systems information relative to photographically re-creating the valuable Fort Bend County Real Property Records now being maintained in your office. We are eager to assist you in utilizing this most economical and practical approach to reclaiming valuable vault space, attaining optimum records security, and preserving the present quality and legibility of these important records. If I may be of assistance in presenting this idea or answering questions at a meeting of the Fort Bend County Commissioners Court, please let me know.

As discussed in our recent conversation, Southern Microfilm specializes in the security microfilming and recreation of large volumes such as those in your office. Through our specialized microfilming and Xerox Copyflo printing process, optimum records security could be obtained and up to half the storage space in your vault reclaimed for more productive uses. The enclosed systems and pricing information is being forwarded for your consideration.

COUNTY RECORDS RE-CREATION SERVICE

Number of Real Property Volumes	Price Per Volume
20 - 49	$ 265.00
50 - 99	258.00
100 - 299	254.00
300 Plus	248.00
Index Volumes	419.00

0038

Number of Photostats Volumes
10 - 49	$530.00
50 - 99	517.00
100 - 299	508.00
300 & Up	497.00

By microfilming the large volumes in your office and reprinting them to the same size as your current recordings, approximately 8 1/2 X 14) it is apparent that you could recover at least 50% of the storage space now being utilized. Of course, the reprinted books are smaller and easier for the public to use, as well as being more durable.

Index volumes would be reproduced to approximately 11" X 18" delivered in a canvas back binder with leather corners. Of course, A to Z index tabs are also included in the price quoted. Re-creation of photostats assumes bimodal (positive & negative) information on the same page requiring compensating filters, precision exposure, reversal film processing and double Copyflo printing on special rag-content paper.

Should a particular page ever be lost or damaged, you need only let us know and we will reprint it from the film at no charge.

In may cases, the cost of repairing and/or rebinding older volumes would be equal to, or greater than the costs of a volume re-created photographically. In almost every instance, repair processes that place clear tape over handwritten or printed information, result in an eventual loss of legibility due to discoloration of the glue under the tape. In other words, repairing and/or rebinding an old volume results in an old volume, while photographic recreation forever preserves the current degree of legibility and prints that quality on new rag-content paper.

The important point is that the security microfilm record may be used to reconstruct all or part of your records at any point in the future, should it become necessary to do so. Of course, Southern Microfilm would be pleased to film the books on the initital visit and then systematically print them to paper over a period of time, should budget considerations make this a requirement.

According to the enclosed price schedule, Southern Microfilm will provide the following services:

(1) Books will be prepared for microfilming by checking the sequence and cutting away the binding, or disassembling, as needed for optimum photographic results. It is very rare that optimum photographic results cannot be obtained without cutting the binding, due to the design of a new accessory easel. This newly created item aids greatly in holding bound books flat during the filming step.

(2) Microfilming will be accomplished on your premises by professional personnel, using a precision 35 mm Kodak microfilmer and Kodak AHU film. A duplex filming mode will be utilized to achieve a two-sided reproduction and optimum packing density for the finished product.

(3) The film will be processed to archival standards and inspected at our Houston processing laboratory before used to print reduced size paper copies, front and back, on quality rag content paper. (Samples enclosed). Custom-printed, high quality, binders are also furnished as a part of the service and each volume would be delivered in a separate binder, unless consolidation of volumes is desired, in which case the charges are based on the number of restored books delivered, rather than the number of original books.

The general guidelines are that it is practical to combine volumes when the records are a similar type and don't exceed three volumes or 1,000 pages. (Separate "Direct & Reverse" index volumes totaling less than 1,000 pages would be an excellent instance where it would be beneficial to combine volumes).

If it was practical to combine re-created index books, Fort Bend County would realize:

A. Cost Savings - Two books for the price of one.

B. Space Savings - One slot in the roller shelving will be required to store what was previously stored in two slots.

C. Public Convenience - Direct and Reverse in same volume.

(4) Original volumes will be placed in special storage cartons and labeled for retirement to a secondary storage area, after delivery of the recreated volumes.

The Honorable Dianne Wilson
County Clerk, Fort Bend County

On a related subject, the plat maps could be photographed while our camera was set up at the Fort Bend County Courthouse. These large documents would be recorded on 35 mm microfilm for security and then printed to an 11" X 17" or 18" X 24" format for ease of handling and convenient reproduction. We could perform this service at a charge of 41. cents each to photograph the maps, $1.13 to reproduce to 11 X 17 and $5.00 to print out to 18" X 24".

We would welcome the opportunity to work with you and your staff to implement these important recommendations. If I may provide additional information or be of further service, please let me know.

Sincerely,

Rick McDaniel

RECOMMENDATIONS

Priority should be given the Deed Records in Fort Bend County, with respect to the records re-creation program. This would require the production of 263 volumes of handwritten and typewritten, and 200 volumes of photostats.

Periodic committments from Fort Bend County to Southern Microfilm for our re-creation service during 1983 and 1984 could be combined to qualify for the lowest quantity price. Also, the quantity of handwritten and typewritten volumes may be combined with the number of photostat volumes to qualify for our best price for the re-creation services over this two year period.

It should be understood, however, that if Southern Microfilm extends a quantity price based on an estimated number of volumes, and that number of volumes is not achieved, then the County will accept an adjusted billing at the higher unit price.

It is recognized that Fort Bend County could attain the greatest reclamation of space, for the least cost, by deferring the photostats until last. Photographic technology is improving signficantly in that area and re-creation of only the handwritten and typewritten Deeds, Deeds of Trust, and Mechanic's Liens still might yield enough space to allow all of these records to be stored in the same reference area of your office.

Southern also plans to assist in the establishment of a film retrieval area in the Fort Bend County Clerk's office to supplement the use of the paper volumes. The volume and page oriented 16 mm film file is being created now and will be made available in a film cartridge format to be used by those members of the public willing and able to use the system with a minimum of assistance.

WHEREAS, Fort Bend County is a body corporate and politic duly authorized by the laws of the State of Texas to acquire easements and rights-of-way for storm and flood drainage purposes, and Fort Bend County, pursuant to the laws of the State of Texas, is further duly vested with the right and power of eminent domain and is duly authorized and empowered to exercise such right and power of eminent domain in order to acquire easements and rights-of-way for storm and flood drainage purposes; and lessened and the facilities for storm and flood drainage located and to be located thereon and thereunder are not obstructed, endangered, damaged or interfered with.

(2) The right to construct, maintain, repair and operate roads, streets, bridges, railroad tracks, underground communication conduits, electric transmission and distribution lines, telephone lines, gas, water, drainage and sewer pipelines, and underground pipelines on, in, over, under, through and across, but not along, the Storm and Flood Drainage Easements, provided that Fort Bend County's use of the Storm and Flood Drainage Easements for storm and flood drainage purposes is not disturbed, diminished or lessened and the facilities for storm and flood drainage located and to be located thereon and thereunder are not obstructed, endangered, damaged or interfered with.

and Fort Bend County shall not fence the Storm and Flood Drainage Easements and shall have no right to erect fences thereon or along the lines of the Storm and Flood Drainage Easements. Fort Bend County shall also acquire in said condemnation proceeding the right of ingress and egress, which right shall be strictly limited and confined to the boundaries of the Storm and Flood Drainage Easements.

II.

The Commissioners Court of Fort Bend County hereby appoints the law firm of Fulbright & Jaworski and Charles L. Michulka as Special Attorneys to represent Fort Bend County in the condemnation proceeding and said Special Attorneys are hereby directed and authorized to institute and prosecute to conclusion a condemnation proceeding in the courts of the State of Texas as authorized by the constitution and statutes of the State of Texas in the name of Fort Bend County for the purpose of securing and acquiring the Storm and Flood Drainage Easements for the public purposes and uses above stated.

A PROPOSAL BY

FORT BEND COUNTY SAFETY COMMITTEE

1. Require supervisors to investigate any accidents that occur in their realm of authority.

2. Institute a preventative maintenance program for all County machinery. This would include maintaining the necessary records so that the mechanics would know when to perform preventative maintenance.

3. Train personnel in first aid and in cardio-pulmonary resuscitation - CPR.

4. Require fire extinguishers and first aid kits to be kept in good working order in shops, in vehicles and on machinery.

5. Train new personnel in the correct and safe procedures associated with their duties. This would also include periodic retraining.

6. Institute short weekly safety meetings within each department.

7. Institute a board whereby employees would be kept apprised of their progress on their safety record. Also institute a program whereby departments would compete for best safety record.

8. Institute a uniform hiring procedure that would require checking of references, previous employers, Industrial Accident Board records, and Department of Public Safety Motor Vehicle Records. This procedure would also be in compliance with those laws and court decisions governing fair hiring practice.

Re: Request for Grant of Sanitary Sewer Easement

Dear Commissioner Denham:

Enclosed is an original and duplicate original of a "Sanitary Sewer Easement". Blue Ridge Associates, as developers of Green Ridge MUD are requesting the County to Grant a sanitary sewer easement across lands previously conveyed by Blue Ridge Associates to the County for park purposes.

Please note:

1. The grant and installation of the easement will, in no way, impair or damage the property for park purposes.
2. Section 8 of the Easement (last page) gives the County the right to tie-into the line and obtain sanitary sewer services for future park and recreational facilities.
3. The agreement contains the customary protections for the property and indemnifications for the County.

We have discussed this matter with Mr. Kucherka, Mr. Kenningbrue, and Mr. Michulka and they have no objections to this, subject to review of the Easement. We would appreciate your assistance in placing this matter on the next possible Commissioners Court agenda. WE will provide the above named gentlemen with copies of this letter and the Sanitary Sewer Easement.

Thank you for your assistance in this matter and please call if you have any questions.

Very truly yours,

Paul A. Philbin

Re: Agreement for Storm Sewer Improvements

Dear Judge Stavinoha and Ms. Tompkins:

Under the terms of the "Agreement for Storm Sewer Improvements" by and among Fort Bend County Drainage District, Sugarland Properties Incorporated, Memorial Hospital Systems, Fluor Engineers, Inc., and First Colony Municipal Utility District No. 2, First Colony MUD 2 is required to secure an irrevocable letter of credit for its pro rata share of the storm sewer costs. First Colony MUD 2 has found it impracticable to secure the letter of credit and requests that Fort Bend County Drainage District accept cash instead of the letter of credit. Enclosed is the First Colony MUD 2 check in the amount of $489,224.47, the amount shown to be due from First Colony MUD 2 on Exhibit "B" to the Agreement.

This check is tendered to Fort Bend County Drainage District on the conditions that (1) the funds will be used only to pay First Colony MUD 2's pro rata share of Construction Costs in the time, manner and amount provided in the Agreement; (2) the funds will, to the extent practicable, be invested and re-invested in interest bearing accounts or certificates; (3) the funds will be secured in the manner required for other County funds; (4) all interest earned on the funds will accrue to the benefit of First Colony MUD 2;

(5) the interest and any principal remaining after payment of all of First Colony MUD 2's share of Construction Costs will be returned to First Colony MUD 2.

In the event Construction Costs exceeds $489,224.47, First Colony MUD 2 shall, immediately after notification of the deficit, remit payment to the County for the balance.

AGREEMENT FOR STORM SEWER IMPROVEMENTS

THE STATE OF TEXAS §

COUNTY OF FORT BEND §

This Agreement made and entered into as of this 11 day of April, 1983, by and among Fort Bend County Drainage District ("County"), Sugarland Properties Incorporated ("SPI"), Fluor Engineers, Inc. ("Fluor" [formerly Fluor Engineers and Constructors, Inc.]), Memorial Hospital System ("Memorial"), and First Colony Municipal Utility District No. 2 ("MUD 2").

RECITALS

SPI, Fluor and Memorial own land adjoining State Highway 6. These parties have determined that it is in their best interest to arrange for the improvement of State Highway 6 by dedicating additional right-of-way and providing additional funds to construct the highway as a six-lane boulevarded highway with underground storm sewer, instead of a five-lane highway with open ditch drainage as proposed by the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation ("State"). MUD 2 and Fort Bend County Municipal Utility District No. 13 ("MUD 13") have been created and organized for the purpose of providing water, sanitary sewer, and drainage and storm sewer improvements and services to serve the lands located within their boundaries, a part of which will be served by storm sewer improvements in and adjacent to State Highway 6. The State is agreeable to the County being responsible for the construction of the storm sewer improvements. The parties hereto have concluded that it is in their mutual interest to construct underground storm sewer storm sewer improvements in State Highway 6 and desire to enter into this Agreement to provide the terms and conditions for the cost sharing and construction of those improvements.

AGREEMENT

For and in consideration of the mutual promises, covenants, benefits and obligations hereafter set forth, SPI, Fluor, Memorial, County, and MUD 2 hereby agree and contract as follows:

B. "Storm Sewer Improvements" - Storm Sewer Improvements shall mean that certain storm sewer system and related appurtenances generally shown on Exhibit "A" and more specifically described in the plans and specifications prepared by Walter P. Moore and Associates captioned "Construction Plans for TEXAS HIGHWAY 6 STORM SEWER" dated January 20, 1983.

C. "Engineer" - Engineer shall mean Walter P. Moore and Associates or its successor.

D. "Engineering Fees" - Engineering Fees shall mean all engineering fees for design, consultation, surveying, preparation of plans and specifications, inspection and construction supervision of the Storm Sewer Improvements.

E. "Rights-of-Way" - Rights-of-Way shall mean all rights-of-way, either fee title or easements acceptable to the County, required for the construction, operation and maintenance of the Storm Sewer Improvements.

ARTICLE II

STORM SEWER IMPROVEMENTS

Section 2.01. Design. The Storm Sewer Improvements have been designed by Walter P. Moore and Associates in accordance with good engineering standards and in accordance with all applicable rules, regulations and requirements of the governmental entities having jurisdiction over the construction of such facilities, particularly Fort Bend County, Fort Bend County Drainage District, State, and MUD 2 and have been approved by all necessary governmental entities, including the State, and the parties hereto.

Section 2.02. Construction. The County has advertised for and received competitive bids and shall award the contract for construction of the Storm Sewer Improvements in accordance with applicable laws of the State of Texas. The parties agree that the contract should be awarded to R.J. Longo Construction Co., Inc., the low bidder, in the amount of $1,729,408.00. The County shall, with the assistance of the Engineer and the State, supervise and inspect the construction of the Storm Sewer Improvements and administer the construction contract in accordance with its terms and applicable laws to assure that the Storm Sewer Improvements are being constructed in accordance with the plans and specifications. The County estimates that the Storm Sewer Improvements should be completed not later than January 1, 1984.

Section 2.03. Conveyance of Rights-of-Way. SPI, Fluor and Memorial have or shall dedicate by plat or other instruments all Rights-of-Way across their respective tracts of lands without expense or costs to the County, State or each other.

ARTICLE III

OWNERSHIP, PRICE AND MAINTENANCE

Section 3.01. Capacity. The Storm Sewer Improvements shall be the property of SPI, Fluor, Memorial and MUD 2 and each shall be entitled to the use and benefit of carrying capacity sufficient to drain the tracts of land and State Highway 6 Rights-of-Way shown on Exhibit "A" attached hereto. The parties agree that they will use their best efforts to prevent any other entity not a party to this Agreement from using the Storm Sewer Improvements or Rights-of-Way which would impair the rights of the parties as specified herein.

Section 3.02. Cost Sharing of Construction Costs. The Construction Costs and Engineering Fees shall be shared as described in Exhibit "B" attached hereto. Each party shall be liable for such share of the Construction Costs and Engineering Fees, subject to the other terms and conditions of this Agreement.

Section 3.03. Method of Payment of Construction Costs. SPI, Fluor, Memorial, and MUD 2 shall secure four irrevocable letters of credit in the respective amounts shown on Exhibit "B" from Texas Commerce Bank National Association, Houston, Texas, with the County as the payee. The letters of credit shall provide that the County is authorized to draw on the letters of credit for the amounts due from the respective parties upon presentment of the monthly construction estimates approved by the Engineer. The letters of credit shall be substantially in accordance with the form attached as Exhibit "C". Each of said parties shall be responsible for arranging its letter of credit.

Each month the Engineer and the County shall review and approve or modify the construction estimate submitted by the contractor. The County shall submit a copy of the approved estimate to each party, the State and Texas Commerce Bank National Association. The approved estimate shall also show each party's share of the Construction Costs. Upon receipt of the requested funds from Texas Commerce Bank National Association, the County shall promptly remit payment to the contractor. The County agrees that all funds advanced pursuant to the terms of this Agreement shall be used solely for the purpose of paying the Construction Costs. Upon final payment to the contractor, the County shall release the letters of credit.

Within forty-five (45) days after completion and acceptance of the Storm Sewer Improvements by the County, the County shall make a recapitulation of all Construction Costs and of all payments made by the respective parties hereto and shall make such adjustments as may be necessary. A copy of such final recapitulation shall be supplied to each party.

Section 3.04. Method of Payment of Engineering Fees.

SPI has previously executed a contract with the Engineer for the design of the Storm Sewer Improvements, and some of the parties hereto have paid a portion of the Engineering Fees incurred pursuant thereto. Within thirty (30) days of the execution hereof, SPI shall prepare a summary reflecting the payments made to date, if any, by the parties hereto, the amount owed by the respective parties based upon the percentages specified in Section 3.02 hereof, and the amount owed by or to each party. Each party owing funds shall remit payment to SPI, and SPI shall remit payment to any other party due a refund.

SPI shall execute a contract with the Engineer providing for the inspection, supervision and contract administration services for the construction of the Storm Sewer Improvements on behalf of all the parties hereto.

From time to time as invoices for services are received by SPI, SPI shall pay such invoices in accordance with the terms of the contract and shall bill each of the parties for their share as set forth in Section 3.02 hereof. Each party shall remit the amount owed within ten (10) days of receipt of such statement.

Within forty-five (45) days after completion and acceptance of the Storm Sewer Improvements by the County, SPI shall prepare a recapitulation of all Engineering Fees and of all payments made by the respective parties hereto and shall make such adjustments as may be necessary to comply with the terms of this Agreement. A copy of the final recapitulation shall be supplied to each party.

Section 3.05. Liability of County. Under no circumstances shall the County be required to expend its own funds to pay any costs of the Storm Sewer Improvements nor be liable for any damages arising out of the construction of the Storm Sewer Improvements.

Section 3.06. Maintenance. The Storm Sewer Improvements are being designed and constructed as a part of the improvement of State Highway 6 for drainage of adjacent property. The State, the County and the City of Sugar Land shall be entitled, but not obligated, to maintain the Storm Sewer Improvements. In the event that none of these entities maintain the Storm Sewer Improvements, the parties hereto shall bear the expense of maintaining the various segments in the same percentages as their respective share of Construction Costs as set forth in Section 3.02 hereof. MUD 2 shall manage the maintenance thereof; provided, however, if the Storm Sewer Improvements, or any segment thereof, are accepted for permanent maintenance by a governmental entity, the parties shall have no further liability for maintenance of the Storm Sewer Improvements, or the accepted segment thereof.

FORT BEND COUNTY COMMISSIONER'S COURT
SUBJECT: RURAL FIRE FUND-EQUIPMENT ROTATION LIST

GENTLEMEN:
THE CURRENT AGREEMENT WITH THE COMMISSIONER'S COURT 3/16/81 ITEM 7 STATES:

"ANY NEW FIRE DEPARTMENT THAT REQUESTS MONEY WILL BE PLACED IN THE NUMBER FIVE POSITION FOR THE CURRENT YEAR. THE FIRE DEPARTMENT DELETED FROM THE CURRENT YEAR WILL THEN BE NUMBER ONE ON THE LIST FOR THE NEXT YEAR."

PECAN GROVE VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPARTMENT WOULD LIKE TO BE ADDED TO THE ROTATION LIST; HOWEVER, A PROBLEM EXISTS IN THAT THE FIVE FIRE DEPARTMENTS ELIGIBLE FOR THE 1983 FUNDS HAVE ALREADY BUDGETED AND SPENT THEIR ALLOCATED $4000 FOR EQUIPMENT.

THE FORT BEND COUNTY FIRE FIGHTERS ASSOCIATION WOULD LIKE FOR THE COUNTY COMMISSIONER'S COURT TO ACT ON THE FOLLOWING CHANGE TO ITEM 7 OF THE MARCH 16, 1981 AGREEMENT. THE CHANGE TO ITEM 7 WOULD STATE:

"ANY NEW FIRE DEPARTMENT(S) MAKING APPLICATION FOR ROTATING EQUIPMENT FUNDS PRIOR TO JULY 1, SHALL BECOME NUMBER ONE ON THE ELIGIBLE LIST ON THE FOLLOWING YEAR. IF SUCH APPLICATION IS MADE AFTER JULY 1, THERNEW FIRE DEPARTMENT(S) SHALL BE ELIGIBLE FOR THE SUBJECT FUNDS THE SECOND YEAR AFTER APPLICATION. THE AFFECTED FIRE DEPARTMENT AT THE BOTTOM OF THE YEARLY ROTATION LIST WILL BE PLACED AT THE TOP OF THE LIST FOR THE NEXT YEAR."

to 5 Years of Service (ten work days a year)

Computed at the rate of 6.67 hours earned per month for a forty hour work week.

5 to 10 Years of Service (twelve work days per year)

Computed at the rate of eight hours earned per month.

10 to 15 Years of Service (fifteen work days per year)

Computed at the rate of 10 hours earned per month.

15 or more Years of Service (twenty work days per year)

Computed at the rate of 13.33 hours earned per month.

The Department Head is responsible for approving and arranging vacation time for employees and such time shall be based upon the department's workload and seniority within the department.

No more than four consecutive weeks of vacation may be taken without written approval of the department head. No more than twenty days of vacation time can be carried over at the end of a calendar year.

Should any Holiday fall within a regular scheduled vacation period, the employee will receive benefit of the Holiday by adding one day to the scheduled vacation time.

Accrued vacation time starts within the first month of employment as a full-time employee.

Should any employee terminate employment with the County and should the employee have accrued vacation time to his credit, said employee shall be paid for accrued vacation time upon termination of his employment.

WORK WEEK:

All full-time employees should work a minimum of forty hours each week.

County offices within the courthouse will normally be open from 8:00 to 5:00 p.m. daily. All offices will be closed on Saturday and Sunday. It is recommended that all offices with three or more employees will remain open between the hours of 8:00 and 5:00 p.m. and no office will be left unattended during office hours or during coffee breaks. Adjustments to these hours of operation may be made by the Department Head in order to better serve the public. Offices may have to stagger lunch periods to stay open during the noon hour.

Coffee breaks will be regulated by the Department Head.

Each Department Head will determine the number of hours their employees will work for the compensation the employee is to receive. No overtime hours will be paid by Fort Bend County to employees who are on a salary basis.

Cempensatory time may be granted to salaried employees by the Department Head for overtime hours if that is the decision of the Department Head -- but this decision is that of the Department Head and the regulation and control of this item is left to the descretion of the Department Head.

All compensatory time off must be used within six months of the date it is earned.

SICK LEAVE:

Sick leave will accrue at the rate of ½ day per month while an employee is actually employed by the County on a full-time basis. Part-time employees shall not receive the benefit of sick leave.

There was a limit of sixty days sick leave credit that could be accredited for past service of the original adoption of these regulations. There is no longer a limit as to the maximum number of sick leave days an employee can accrue at any one time. Loss of work due to accident or injury received in the performance of duty is not time which shall be charged against sick leave of any employee.

Sick leave must be taken in increments of not less than ½ days. A doctor's certificate for sick leave taken may be required at the descretion of the Department Head.

The County will not pay an employee for unused sick leave time accumulated in the event of termination or retirement from County employment.

CITIZENSHIP LEAVE:

Employees shall be granted leave with pay when it becomes necessary for them to be absent from work for the purpose of Citizenship Obligations. Employees are required to notify their Supervisor, Official or Department Head in advance of Citizenship Duties.

Citizenship Obligations are;

1. WITNESS DUTY (When Subpoenaed)
2. JURY DUTY
3. VOTING

EMERGENCY LEAVE:

At the descretion of the Department Head, a maximum of three (3) days will be allowed for emergency leave for the purpose of attending funerals of immediate family members. The definition of Immediate Family will normally mean Spouse, Children, Mother, Father, Brother, Sister, Grandparents, and Grandchildren.

Should more than three days be needed to cover the emergency situation that additional time will be charged to :

1. Vacation Time.
2. Time off without pay.

Should an employee leave the employment of the County prior to qualifying for retirement benefits, that employee shall have the right to apply for a refund of the employee's contribution to the system along with interest earned on his contribution. The employee shall not be entitled to the County's portion contributed to the system on his behalf should the employee withdraw from the system.

Each full-time employee of the County MUST become a member of the Retirement System upon the first day of the month following the date of employment. Exception: New employees sixty years old or older have the option of entering the retirement system.

Full details regarding the Retirement System are available through your Department Head, the Auditor's office or the Personnel Office of the County.

LONGEVITY PAY:

To reward all employees including elected officials for loyalty to the County we have longevity pay. For each year that a person works for the County he will be paid an extra five dollars a month. This amount will be added automatically to the persons check on his anniversary month of employment.

This policy went into effect in April of 1979 and at that time employees were credited with a maximum of three years of longevity pay regardless of length of prior service.

MILITARY LEAVE:

Full-time, permanent employees of the County may receive leave with partial pay if ordered to annual training duty in the National Guard or any Armed Forces Reserve Unit of the United States Government. Leave for military duty with pay and without loss of other benefits is limited to fifteen days per year. Part-time, temporary and probationary employees may receive time off for military duty without pay.

The maximum compensation paid to an employee on military leave is the difference between his/her regular salary as an employee of the County and the compensation received by the employee for active duty with the reserves. In order to qualify for this benefit, the employee must submit the appropriate certifications and documents verifying both the amount of compensation received and the period of the training duty.

Military leave must be approved in advance, and employees should notify their supervisors as soon as possible after receiving their orders to report to training camp.

Additional days off without pay may be granted for emergency duty documented by the military. In the event an employee is called into active service as the result of a National Emergency, the County's policies concerning military leave shall be governed by all applicable Federal laws.

EMPLOYEE TERMINATION AND SUBSEQUENT RE-EMPLOYMENT

Any termination of County employment for a period of ninety days or longer will cancel the accrual of benefits which have not theretofore been vested. Re-employment after the termination of said period or longer is treated as new employment. Any benefits which accrue on the basis of length of County employment may not be had except as any new employee qualifying for said benefits. If the employee draws out his/hers retirement funds upon termination he/she relinquish all County benefits.

If an employee transfers from one department to another and no break in time occurs during the transfer a new physical is not required. If any length of time occurs during the transfer the employee must take another physical.

HOLIDAYS:

0487

At the regular session of the Commissioners Court of Fort Bend County on the second Monday in January each year the Commissioners will set the holiday schedule for the County. If any of these days fall on a Sunday, the following Monday will be observed. If any of these days fall on Saturday, the prededing Friday will be observed.

Expectant mothers may continue to work as long as they can perform their duties adequately and the work does not endanger their health. Employees on maternity leave may elect to use accumulated sick leave or paid vacation time during their absence from work. They may also request maternity leave without pay, or they may elect to resign. The time when an expectant mother should cease work or return to work will be determined on an individual basis upon the advise of a physician, and depends on the physical condition of the employee and the nature of her job.

The County may, as in the case of all employees on sick leave, require an employee requesting maternity leave (or sick leave) to submit a certificate from a physician verifying her disability for the period in which the employee cannot or should not perform her job. Requests for maternity leave without pay up to 30 days beyond the medically certified period of " temporary disability" may be granted by the County Judge. Requests for more than thirty days leave for this purpose must be approved by the County Judge.

Any illness or other incapacitation resulting from pregnancy, miscarriages, abortion, childbirth, or recovery therefrom will be treated as a " temporary disability" for the period in which the employee cannot or should not (on medical advice) perform her job, and the County's regular sick leave policy shall apply.

An employee taking maternity leave shall not lose any of the benefits she has accrued as a County employee provided she returns to work on the first day of business after the medically certified period.

All maternity leave in excess of accumulated sick leave and vacation time is taken without pay. Employees do not earn additional benefits while on maternity leave. Only full-time, permanent employees of the County are eligble to take maternity leave.

DEFERRED COMPENSATION:

Deferred Compensation is a benefit available to public employees of cities, counties, and states. This benefit is not available to employees in private industry. Fort Bend County has joined the National Association of Counties Deferred Compensation Program that provides you, as a Fort Bend County employee, an outstanding new voluntary benefit program.

This program through speical tax laws, allows you to defer a portion of your income and the taxes on that income and use both to build a bigger fund for supplemental retirement income, as well as for other purposes. Because of the mass purchasing power of more than 1,900 member counties and their employees, this program offers you remarkable investment opportunities for small amounts (as little as $20.00 a month) - opportunities that would otherwise be available only to large investors.

For a one week period, twice a year in the months of February and August (usually) the County Deferred Compensation program is open for county employees to make changes to their accounts. Old or new employees may enroll in the program, drop out of the program, increase or decrease the amount you are paying into the program, or you may change your type of investment during this one week period. If you drop out of the program, you money stays in the program unless you have an emergency or you terminate your employment with the county.

The three ways to get your money out of the program are:

1. Retire from the county and select the program option that best suits your needs.

2. In case of an emergency. An emergency is something that cannot be budgeted for. Examples are illness or auto accident. The County Judge makes all determinations on emergencies so if you have a problem contact his office.
3. You terminate you employment with the county.

On terminations and emergencies it takes about six weeks to get your check. First the Judge's Office has to notify the Auditor's Office, the Auditor's Office notifies the plans Administrator, PEBSCO, in Oklahoms City, Oklahoms. PEBSCO, then cuts the check on their next computer cycle and returns it to our Auditor's Office. The Auditor's Office will then notify you to come in and pick up your check.

If you withdraw your money from your account, it will become taxable in that year.

For additional information on Deferred Compensation please contact the Fort Bend County Personnel Department.

The eight members are one person from each of the four commissioners offices, the drainage district, the sheriffs department, the ambulance department and the administrative coordinator.

It is an eight hour course and is usually taught in two four hour segements on consecutive days. The course is free for all county employees. The cost for each family member is one dollar and fifty cents.

Dear Judge Stavinoha
and Members of Commissioners Court

The City of Sugar Land seeks your support for our summer recreation program. This is the first program of its kind in the City of Sugar Land and we look forward to a very favorable public response. We hope that this small beginning may develop into a continuing program of which we can be truly proud.

The program will be open to residents of the City and Fort Bend County on a first-come basis. It will be limited to one hundred (100) participants and the City will assume responsibility for funding the cost of additional supervisors and other incidentals. The charge to participants will be nominal.

Separate from this program, the City is sponsoring Red Cross swimming lessons, which will also be open to County residents on a first-come basis. Registration again will be limited by the size of our facilities.

We are seeking, not only to provide supervised activities for our children between six and twelve, but also to provide constructive employment for our young adults. We solicit your support and encouragement for our project.

Sincerely,

CITY OF SUGAR LAND

Every Friday will be "Arts and Crafts Day".

Session Two: June 27-July 8; Monday - Friday

Additional sessions will be added based on interest and participation. Rainy day activities are under discussion. Visits to Imperial Sugar, the Sugar Land Fire Station and crime prevention/drug awareness programs are contemplated. The City will be using the temporary buildings of the school district located at the Seventh Street Park in Sugar Land for indoor activities. This has been approved by the school district.

County funds would be used to pay young supervisors at rates not to exceed $3.00/hour. City will provide insurance, facilities and screen job applicants and administer the program.

Estimated Costs:

Five (5) Play Supervisors* at $3.00/hour per session	$ 300.00/session
Arts and Crafts materials for three (3) sessions	$ 300.00
Total Cost for three sessions	$ 1500.00

*One Supervisor for every ten (10) children.

This program is the first of its kind in the City of Sugar Land. Our park manager, Ms. Chris Kisner, will be in charge of directing the activities and working with and overseeing our "play supervisors". Activities will be scheduled between the hours of 1:00 P.M. and 3:00 P.M. so that those children participating in organized swimming (mornings) and baseball (evenings, first two sessions) may participate. Child participation should not be unduly restricted because of vacations, Bible school, summer camps and other family activities since there are three (3) scheduled sessions.

If the number of participants exceeds our estimates, the City will be responsible for providing additional supervisors.

We anticipate a very favorable response from our residents and we shall appreciate your support of our program. We hope that this will initiate a summer program that can be expanded in future years.

Re: Approval of Construction Plans for Realignment of Ditch "B"
First Colony Levee Improvement District of Fort Bend County, Texas

Gentlemen:

It is our understanding that a County permit will be required prior to the construction of the crossing of Lester Road which is a part of the above - referenced plans. Please allow this letter to serve as our guarantee that construction of the road crossing will not begin until such a permit is obtained. However, we do request that the Court approve the Ditch "B" Construction Plans at this time so that we may accept bids, award the contract and then have the contractor pursue obtaining the required permit with our assistance. Again, construction on Lester Road will not begin until said permit is obtained.

Thank you for your assistance and cooperation in this matter.

Very truly yours,

Re: Request for Sponsorship of Drainage Improvements
72-acre investment tract

Dear Judge and Commissioners:

The Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation has required that the purchasers of a 72-acre tract along U.S. Highway 59 approximately 1.5 miles east of Richmond make certain minor downstream drainage improvements. These improvements are intended to restore the West Fork of Middle Bayou to the capacity which it originally had when Highway 59 was constructed.

The Highway Department informed us, in communicating their requirements, that they are not allowed to permit construction by private individuals or firms on and parallel to their rights-of-way. They advised us that the sponsorship of a public entity would be necessary in order that the required improvements be carried out. They further suggested that the appropriate entity in this case is Fort Bend County. For this reason, we now approach the County with this request for sponsorship of the improvements. The sponsorship would be nominal in nature. All costs of engineering and construction, along with necessary indemnification of the County, which would be borne by the purchasers of the 72-acre tract.

The specific items which have been required by the Highway Department include:

1) Installation of 2 short lengths of storm sewer pipe (approximately 140 feet in length) in the roadside ditch of the north access road of Highway 59 from the corner of the 72-acre tract to the mouth of 3 existing 7-foot by 4-foot box culverts which run under Highway 59 and discharge into the West Fork of Middle Bayou.

2) Cleaning out silt which has accumulated in the bottom of the channel of the West Fork of Middle Bayou in the years since the channel was constructed. This channel was placed in a 75-foot wide Highway Department easement which extends from the aforementioned box culverts to Middle Bayou, which is in a Fort Bend County Drainage District easement.

ESPEY, HUSTON & ASSOCIATES, INC.

Providing that you approve the request for sponsorship, we propose to complete engineering drawings and bid documents, and to assist the County Engineer's office in receiving bids for construction of the improvements. An application for a Highway Department permit for the work will also have to be prepared, submitted, and approved during this time. We will then appear before you again with the funds for the project, in order that the construction contract be awarded.

The County Engineer's and County Auditor's offices have each been notified of this request, and preliminary contact has been made with the owners of property adjacent to the affected right-of-way. The Highway Department will also notify the adjacent land owners during their permit approval process.

Thank you for the opportunity to present this request. We are ready to answer questions which may arise.

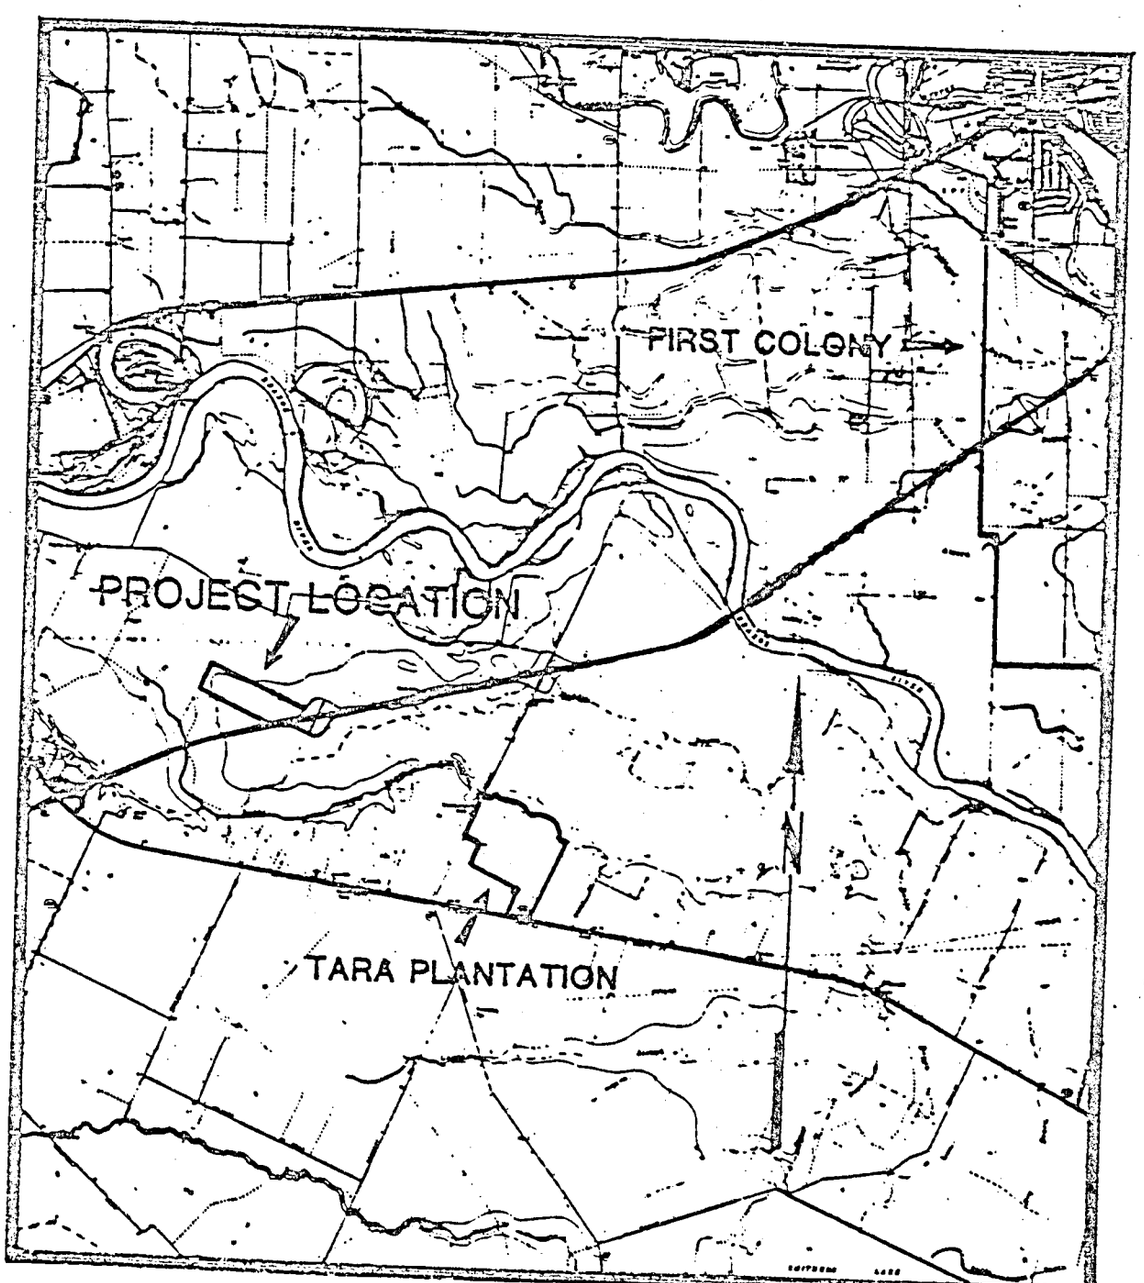

Sincerely,

Roy D Dodson

Re: First Quarter Cash Count & Internal Controls Audit

Gentlemen:

According to VACS Article 1656a, we have conducted a cash count and an internal controls audit following an audit program which we deemed necessary to insure"the speedy and proper collection and checking of, and accounting for the revenues and other funds and fees belonging to the County".

The cash count and internal control audit were performed at the end of the first quarter for 1983. As part of our examination we made a study and evaluation of each fee officer's system of internal accounting control to the extent we considered necessary to evaluate the system and to see that prescribed procedures are being followed as required by generally accepted auditing standards. Under these standards, the purposes of such evaluations are to establish a basis for reliance on the system of internal accounting control in determining the nature, timing, and extent of other auditing procedures that are necessary for expressing an opinion on the financial reports and to assist us in planning and performing our examinations of these reports.

Each fee officer has received a copy of our prescribed procedures that they must follow. We have made direct contact with each fee officer at least once a month and they have received a report of the audit with our observations and suggestions.

Attached is a copy of the introduction explaining the duties and responsibilities of the County Auditor. Also attached is a synopsis of our evaluations showing material weaknesses and our comments and suggestions.

We are prepared to discuss the results with the Commissioners' and the fee officer if necessary. We feel that our requests are reasonable and can provide our office with excellent internal audit controls.

Sincerely,

Joyce Tompkins

INTRODUCTION

As an elected, or non-elected official of Fort Bend County each department head has certain duties and responsibilities unique to his/her position. It is the responsibility of each official to prescribe procedures pertinent to the office he heads and to be sure that each member of his staff fulfills his/her duties to the bestof his/her ability. The official should make sure that his staff is provided with an Employee Manual and that he or she has read it thoroughly and is familiar with the basics of County Government and has a fair fund of knowledge of general information about Fort Bend County offices.

In the same way the County Auditor has certain and unique duties and responsibilities which affect every official and department in the county. "The statutes of the State of Texas as codified in the various articles of Vernon's Annotated Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas (VACS) impose a multitude of duties and responsibilities on a Texas county auditor. All of these duties and responsibilities are very important if the county auditor is to fulfill his/her role in the maintenance of efficient and responsible county government. However, I believe that of all these duties the most important and most challenging ones which a county auditor must face involve those dealing with the auditing of county revenues. This is because without revenues the county government cannot function and serve the public, and in the auditing of those revenues the county auditor is dealing with the understatement due to the unrecorded transactions. This is obviously far more difficult to audit than expenditures, for example, where the county auditor is concerned with the overstatement of recorded transactions."

The County Auditor gets his/her specific legal authority in the area of county revenues from several articles of VACS. VACS Article 1651 provides that "the auditor shall have a general oversight of all books and records of all officers of the county.....who may be authorized or required by law to receive or collect any money, funds, fees, or other property for the use of, or belonging to the County...."

VACS Article 1653 states that "all reports of collections of money for the County required to be made to Commissioners' Court shall also be carefully examined and reported on by her. She shall at least once in each quarter check the books and examine all reports of the tax collector, the treasurer, and all other officers in detail, verifying the footings and correctness of same, and shall stamp her approval thereon or note any differences, errors or discrepancies.. ...."

VACS Article 1656 states"she shall prescribe and prepare the forms to be used by all persons in the collection of County revenues, funds, fees and all other monies, and the mode and manner of keeping and stating their accounts and the time, mode and manner of making their reports to the Auditor, also the mode and manner of making their annual report of office fees collected and disbursed..." VACS Article 1656a further states "the County Auditor....shall prescribe the system of accounting for the County and the forms to be used by the District Clerk, the District Attorney, and all the County and precinct officers and by all persons in the collection and disbursement of County revenues funds, fees and all other monies collected in an official capacity....; she shall prescribe the mode and manner in which the District Clerk, the District Attorney and all

County and precinct officers shall keep their accounts, and she shall have the power to require all officers to furnish monthly, annual or other reports under oath of all monies, taxes or fees of every nature received.....She shall have the power to adopt and enforce such regulations...as she may deem essential to the speedy and proper collection and checking of, and accounting for the revenues and other funds and fees belonging to the County."

Article 1666a "The Court shall have the authority to make such changes in the budget as in its judgement the facts and the law warrant and the interest of the taxpayers demand, provided that the amounts budgeted for current expenditures from the various funds of the County shall not exceed the balances in said funds as of January 1st plus the anticipated revenue for the current year for which the budget is made, as estimated by the County Auditor."

Due to the county auditor's statutory duties and responsibilities the auditor has a tremendous opportunity to enhance and improve county government in many ways.

"She can improve the efficiency by which the county collects and processes its revenues, thus reducing some of the time and expense expended in these areas.

She can seek to maximize the revenues of the county in certain areas, such as in the investing of idle funds, thus demonstrating that good business acumen does exist in county government.

She can propose and enforce a balanced budget to insure that the county will be run in a businesslike manner.

She can help to insure that all revenues legally due the county were either collected and properly recorded, or were set up as receivables on the county records and that the collection of all such receivables will be pressed within all legal means.

In the performance of these duties the county auditor may not improve her popularity, however this 'goes with the territory'."*

In keeping with our statutory duties and responsibilities we are providing you with the procedures to account and report all money collected in your department. They are very specific and go into great detail to be sure that they are understood completely. Our department would like to minimize the adage that the county auditor is quite unpopular. However, we realize that while you are doing your job to the best of your abilities in your department, we too are doing our job to the best of our abilities, and somewhere along the way our paths meet and we must work together in a friendly, congenial and professional manner. Our direct supervisors are the District Judges to whom we have to answer if we do not perform our job as mandated by the statutes.

Please read the previous paragraphs again and notice that they do not state that we must make corrections or complete another departments job for them. However, we all have one goal in common which we believe is to provide a good county government for all citizens concerned and it is very important that we work together to realize this goal in whatever department we may be in.

There is one Article which we hope never to have to rely on to get the cooperation of all departments which is:

> Article 1663a. "Penalty. A county official or other person from whom the county auditor is entitled to receive reports, statements or other information under the provisions of Subdivision 2 of this Title who willfully refuses to comply with any reasonable request of the county auditor concerning those reports, statements, or other information is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction is punishable by a fine of not less than $25. nor more than $200, removal from office, or both a fine and removal from office. (VACS)"

We do not feel that any of our requests or requirements as outlined in the attached procedures are unreasonable. They are simply an organized system with checks and balance to ensure that all monies are properly received, receipted, collected, recorded, docketed, deposited, invested, and sensibly expended for the benefit of all.

We will be happy to consider any new ideas you may have to improve the accounting system, however, we only ask that you submit them to this office in writing for study and consideration. We want you to know that we are always available to help you with any accounting and reporting problems you may have, however, we urge you to consult the accounting procedures first and then if you have a special problem, a doubt, or if the procedure is unclear, please call this office before you proceed. It is easier to take care of a problem by either preventing it, or by dealing with it when it is small and not allowing it to grow and overwhelm everybody.

Re: Petition for Speed Control and Enforcement in Pecan Grove Plantation, Section 2

We, the undersigned residents of Pecan Grove Plantation, Section 2, Richmond, Texas, respectfully request that you give your serious consideration and attention to this petition.

Pecan Grove Plantation is only four years old, but due to the rapid growth of this residential area, we have out-grown our existing speed control signs. The few signs that we have are totally inadequate to handle the density of daily traffic traveling our streets.

Our sub division is filled with two and three car families, teenagers on motor cycles, children on bikes and joggers. Because we are still a development neighborhood under constant construction, our streets are used by hundreds of contractors, sub-contractors, and construction workers driving their cement trucks, pick-up trucks and eighteen wheelers. A great number of these trucks and our own residents do not adhere to reasonable or safe speeds while in the sub division. The children in our community attend two different school districts, Fort Bend and Lamar Consolidated, therefore, we have two groups of school buses running twice daily.

We are in desperate need of speed control signs at various dangerous intersections and on our streets to at least slow down the momemtum gained from long stretches of pavement bearing no speed limit signs or stop signs.

We appeal to you for your assistance in helping us to obtain the necessary speed control signs that we feel are vital for a safer community. We plead for your support before a tragedy necessitates an even more desperate request!

Residents for Speed Control Signs and Enforcement

Hon. Jodie E. Stavinoha
County Judge, Fort Bend County
P. O. Box 368
Richmond, Texas 77469

Dear Judge Stavinoha:

The above program for the installation or upgrading of automatic warning systems has been approved by the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission Minute Order No. 80767, dated April 28, 1983.

The financing of this Program is 5% State, 5% local political subdivision and 90% Federal.

Through the State Priority System, the grade crossing selected for improvement is at the intersection of Missouri Street and the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company Tracks in Orchard. Your agreement to participate will be noted by your execution and return of one of the attached Certification Statements for this project. Do not send your check at this time.

You will be invited later to an on-site diagnostic inspection of the crossing to assist in determining the type of automatic protective devices to be installed. Following receipt of your Certification Statement and the Railroad's Detailed Estimate of Cost, we will forward a copy of the finaled State-Railroad Agreement with the required exhibits and request, at that time, your 5% contribution, based on the total estimated cost for this installation.

Such projects normally take about two years from inception to installation and we therefore request your prompt handling and response to minimize this time frame.

Very truly yours,

Omer F. Poorman

APPLICATION FOR PARTICIPATION FUNDS FOR PARK PROGRAM

To: Fort Bend, Commissioners, County

From: City of Kendleton

OK c~ 6/6/83 J Sturrock

Background:

Purpose: The purpose of the funds requested are to match funds on hand, and those to be secured to complete the project. Considerable volunteer work and donations from private sources will also go into this effort.

Proposal: Erection of playground equipment and regulation soft-ball diamond.

The soft-ball diamond will give a home court to our local teams. These efforts will provide summer activities, summer work, and supervised activities associated with basketball, softball and a general playground/picnic area.

All county funds would be used to erect a regulation size basket-ball court with two (2) goals, and a back-stop screen for the soft-ball diamond.

Estimated Cost:

Fifty (50) yards of ready mix concrete	$2,000.00
Three (3) rolls cyclone wire	300.00
Twenty-five (25) Trees	$?
	$2,300.00 +

All labor, playgound equipment and construction will be provided under the supervision of the City and by the City with volunteer help.

Various County equipment will be needed on a one (1) time basis as the City does not own heavy equipment needed to cut street access around the park, nor clear area for drainage.

We appreciate your favorable response and look forward to a long and meaningful relationship in the future.

and General Conditions

Dear Commissioner Lutts:

In accordance with our discussion at the meeting on June 15, 1983, we are enclosing our revised line item budget estimate with general conditions on the above project.

Please note the total of the estimate remains the same, however, a number of the individual line items have been increased to reflect the portion of the general conditions that these particular line items would carry when subcontracted out. The revised general conditions have been reduced accordingly.

We are looking forward to building this fine project for Fort Bend County.

Very truly yours,

WARRIOR CONSTRUCTORS, INC.

The area covers Boss Gaston from Crabtree Road to Highway 6

Not only is our lives in danger but our personal property (cars) are being damaged by "Bad Roads" which the trucks have torn up.

We would like to see "Stop Signs" installed and "Speed Signs" of 25 MPH put up.

The trucks travel much too fast and several of us have almost been forced off the road to avoid an accident. Many of us can attest to this.

We would like for this area to be patrolled please, and a official to see that this law is enforced.

We are all tax paying citizens and as property owners we can no longer keep silent concerning these matters above and hope that you will honor our petition and take immediate action to help us correct the above mentioned problems that we have presented to you. All of us are residents of the area and use this road.

I. INTRODUCTION

A. Purpose

The purpose of this plan is to guide the County, and particularly the Engineering Department, in achieving the goals of the federal and state Acts under which the plan is authorized. Those Acts are: House Bill No. 1719, and the (Texas) Solid Waste Disposal Act of 1969. The goals of the Acts can be stated generally as the management of solid waste in a manner which will:

1. Safeguard the health, welfare and physical property of the people,
2. Protect the environment, and
3. Conserve material and energy resources.

This plan is to give direction to the management of municipal solid waste in Fort Bend County, ensure coordinated efforts between solid waste management programs and other activities which will be affected; define problems; establish goals and objectives and outline strategies and procedures for their achievement; and provide for updating of this plan on a regular basis.

B. Scope

This plan considers and provides for the following activities relating to municipal solid waste management:

0019

1. Resource conservation;
2. Source separation;
3. Collection;
4. Transportation;
5. Storage;
6. Transfer;
7. Processing (including resource recovery);
8. Treatment; and
9. Disposal.

The following types of waste are considered where appropriate:

1. Hazardous (including low-level radioactive);
2. Residential and Recreational;
3. Commercial;

4. Institutional;

5. Water and Wastewater Sludges;

6. Pollution Control Residuals; and

7. Septic Tank Pumping Wastes.

Industrial, agricultural and mining wastes will be considered in Volume II, "Industrial Solid Waste," as developed by the Texas Department of Water Resources.

The (Texas) Solid Waste Disposal Act does not include in its definition of "solid waste," the waste materials which result from activities with the exploration, development, or production of oil or gas. Therefore, this plan does not include planning considerations for these types of wastes. These materials are the state management responsibility of the Railroad Commission of Texas.

In response to the need to upgrade state solid waste management and to establish a regulatory program, the State Legislature passed the (state) Solid Waste Disposal Act in 1969. The Texas Department of Health was then armed with state legislative authority to require and issue permits for municipal solid waste disposal facilities, authority to plan, authority to develop regulations and authority to develop a more comprehensive program.

The state Solid Waste Disposal Act established a distinction between municipal and industrial solid waste. Industrial solid waste management responsibility was assigned to the Texas Water Quality Board while responsibility for management of municipal solid waste was maintained by the Texas Department of Health. The Texas Water Quality Board published its portion of the state plan, "Volume II - Industrial and Agricultural Solid Waste," in 1973.

II. BACKGROUND INFORMATION

A. Legislation

1. Federal

a. Resource Conservation and Recovery Act

The primary federal legislative Act which affects solid waste management is the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act of 1976, (Public Law 94-580, 42 U.S.C. 3251), commonly called "RCRA." The RCRA essentially replaced the earlier Solid Waste Disposal Act of 1965, as amended by the Resource Recovery Act of 1970. The goal or purpose of RCRA is:

> ...to provide technical and financial assistance for the development of management plans and facilities for the recovery of energy and other resources from discarded materials and for the safe disposal of discarded materials, and to regulate the management of hazardous waste.

Some of the main provisions of the Act include:

(1) Creation of the Office of Solid Waste within the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency;

(2) Mandates a program for management of hazardous waste from generation to disposal;

(3) Development of state or regional solid waste plans;

(4) Encouraging proven resource recovery technology; and

(5) Prohibition of future open dumping and the requiring of proper closure or upgrading of existing open dumps.

The Act directed the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to develop:

(1) Solid waste management guidelines describing the "level of performance" that can be attained by various available solid waste management practices which protect public health and the environment;

(2) Minimum criteria to be used by the states to define those solid waste management practices which constitute the open dumping of solid waste or hazardous waste and which are to be prohibited;

(3) Criteria for identifying hazardous waste and for listing hazardous wastes which will be subject to federal regulations;

(4) Standards for generators, transporters, and treatment, storage and disposal facility owners and operators;

(5) Guidelines to assist the states in developing and implementing state solid waste management plans; and

(6) Guidelines for identifying regional planning agencies and areas.

Funds are authorized to promote attainment of certain objectives within the Act including:

(1) Grants toward the purchase of tire shredders;

(2) General administration;

(3) Resource Recovery and Conservation (technical assistance) Panels;

(4) Hazardous waste programs;

(5) State solid waste management plans;

0019

(6) Improvement, consolidation or construction of disposal facilities; and

(7) Rural communities assistance.

b. Other Related Federal Legislation

There are many other federal legislative Acts which impinge upon the solid waste management system but are secondary to the RCRA. They will not be discussed in detail. Most of them are listed as follows:

(1) Safe Drinking Waste Act; (42 U.S.C. 201, et.seq.)

(2) Clean Air Act, (42 U.S.C. 7401, et.seq.)

(3) Federal Water Pollution Control Act (also called the Clean Water Act), (33 U.S.C. 1251, et.seq.)

(4) Atomic Energy Act, (42 U.S.C. 211, et.seq.)

(5) Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act, (7 U.S.C. 136, et.seq.)

(10) Endangered Species Act, (16 U.S.C. 668, et.seq.)

(11) Hazardous Materials Transportation Act, (40 U.S.C. 1761, et.seq.)

2. State

a. Solid Waste Disposal Act

The (Texas) Solid Waste Disposal Act (V.T.C.S., Article 4477-7) was enacted in 1969 and has been amended several times. The goal or purpose of the Solid Waste Disposal Act is to "...safeguard the health, welfare, and physical property of the people through controlling the collection, handling, storage and disposal of solid wastes." The provisions of this Act are not intended to apply to inert solid material used for construction fill or for waste material resulting from activities associated with the exploration, development or production of oil and gas.

Major provisions of the Act include:

(1) Delineation of state agency responsibility for solid waste management between the Texas Department of Health and the Texas Department of Water Resources;

(2) Authorization of state solid waste management plans;

(3) Authorization of a permitting program for solid waste management facilities and the adoption of applicable regulations;

(4) Provision for hazardous waste regulation;

(5) Provision for state agencies to expend state funds or administer them in grants to local governments;

(6) Enable counties to exercise licensing, planning and management authority;

(7) Authorization of multi-county political subdivisions (districts) to exercise the same solid waste management functions as a county;

(8) Granting right-of-entry to inspectors after proper notification; and

(9) Providing for injunctive relief and civil penalty of $50-$1,000 for each act of violation and day of violation of the Act.

The Solid Waste Disposal Act has been amended several times. The latest amendment occurred in 1979 and caused the inclusion of provisions which define "Class I industrial waste" and provide that such waste can be accepted in municipal solid waste disposal facilities if authorized by the Texas Department of Health and approved by the Texas Department of Water Resources.

b. County Solid Waste Control Act

The County Solid Waste Control Act was enacted in 1971, and may be cited in Article 4477-8, V.T.C.S. This Act has as its purpose:

> ...authorizing a cooperative effort by counties, other public agencies, and other persons for the safe economical collection, transportation, and disposal of solid waste in order to control pollution in this state.

Counties receive certain authority and direction from this enabling Act but some provisions refer to "any public agency" and therefore, some parts are applicable to cities, special districts and authorities. Important provisions of the Act include:

(1) A county has the authority to construct, operate, buy, sell, or lease all or any part of a solid waste management system or may enter into an operating agreement for the operation of such a system;

(2) The right to exercise the power of eminent domain is granted to a county for purposes authorized by the Act;

(3) A county, by contractural agreement, may operate a solid waste management system for one or more other public agencies located within the county;

(4) Other public agencies may pay the county, for operating a solid waste management system, from utility revenues or from ad valorem taxes if such is approved by election;

(5) Public agencies are required to adjust rates paid for service as required to cover expenses for the service;

(6) Bonding authorization is given a county for use in acquiring, maintaining, or enlarging a waste management system;

(7) Any public agency or any county may establish a solid waste disposal service as a separate utility, may require the use of such service by all persons within the service area, and may charge and collect fees for the service.

(8) The Commissioners' Court of a county may adopt and impose legal, reasonable solid waste management regulations for any area not within the territorial limits or extraterritorial limits of a city and may by ordinance delineate the areas where solid waste disposal sites will not be prohibited.

c. Texas Sanitation and Health Protection Law

The Texas Sanitation and Health Protection Law was enacted in 1945 and is cited as V.T.C.S., Article 4477-1. It is a law of general nature; however, some of the provisions relate to solid waste management. A statement within this Law declares that any person using or permitting use of land as a public dump is responsible for covering or incineration of the waste. (Other federal and state laws and regulations control the method of covering and incineration.) It also states that any person possessing a place on which there is a public health nuisance shall proceed at once and continue to abate the nuisance. Every local health officer who receives proof of such a nuisance shall issue a written notice of violation with a copy to the local city, county or District Attorney. If the nuisance is not abated within the time specified in the notice, the local prosecuting attorney shall immediately institute proceedings for the abatement thereof. This statute clearly delegates the authority and the responsibility of enforcement to the local health and legal authorities.

The penalty for violation of this Law or rules adopted under the authority of this law is $10-$200 per day of violation. The Texas Department of Health is authorized to apply to any district court in the state to enforce, prevent, or restrain violations of the Act or rules adopted pursuant to the Act.

d. "Dumping Refuse Near Highways..."

This series of provisions is from an Act passed in 1972, revised several times and is cited under the heading of "Roads, Bridges and Ferries" in Vernon's Annotated Revised Civil Statutes (V.T.C.S.), Article 6674v-2 to the State of Texas.

These provisions make it an unlawful act to dump, deposit, or leave solid waste on or within 300 yards of public roads unless pursuant to rules and regulations of the Texas Department of Health. (The applicable rules and regulations prohibit any such dumping except in permitted sites.) In the event of any threatened or probably violation of the Act, "it shall be the duty of the County or District Attorney" to bring suit for injunction to prevent such violations. Also, any person affected or to be affected by such violations "shall have the right to enjoin such violations." This Act clearly delegates the authority and responsibility for enforcement of illegal dumping provisions to the local authority. The conviction of a violation under a provision within this Act is subject to a fine of $50-$400 per day of violation.

e. "Dumping Solid Waste Onto Property or Into Waters..."

This general sanitation and health law (V.T.C.S., Article 4477-9) which became effective in 1971, makes it unlawful for any person or persons to dispose of solid waste on any public road rights-of-way or other public or private property or into inland or coastal waters without written permission of the owner or agent. "Every law enforcement officer of the state and its subdivisions shall have the authority to enforce the provisions of this Act." Any person convicted under a provision of the Act is subject to fine of $15-$200. Any person affected or to be affected by a threatened or probably violation has the right to sue for injunctive relief.

f. Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act

This Act was enacted in 1975 and became effective January 1, 1976. It is cited in Article 6252-13a, V.T.C.S. Its purpose is to:

> "...provide minimum standards of practice and procedure for state agencies, to provide for public participation in the rule-making process, to provide adequate and proper public notice of proposed agency rules and agency actions through publication of a state register, and to restate the law of judicial review of agency action."

The Act provides for making proposed rules available to the public and establishes the Texas Register for publication of rules. Publication must occur at least 30 days prior to adoption of rules. (The Act does not require a public hearing on all proposals unless requested by 25 or more petitioners or by a governmental subdivision or association representing 25 or more persons. However, this does not preclude a state agency from having a public hearing without 25 petitioners if a particular statute requires it or if the state agency considers it good public policy to have a hearing.) During the 30 day period after notice is given, an agency is required to afford all interested individuals a reasonable opportunity for submission of data, views, or arguments, orally or in writing, to the department proposing the rules. If a hearing will be held in addition to the submission of data, the hearing may be held during the 30 day period.

Other items required to be published in the Texas Register include:

(1) The text of adopted rules;

(2) Governor's executive orders,

(3) Summaries of requests for opinions of the Attorney General;

(4) Summaries of opinions of the Attorney General;

(5) Notices of open meetings; and

(6) Other information of general interest to the public.

0019

The Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act also provides standards for formal evidentiary hearings in which the legal rights of persons might be affected by state action, and for judicial review of agency decisions at these formal hearings.

g. Other Related State Legislation

Several other state legislative acts directly or indirectly affect the management of solid waste generated in Texas. Most are included in the following list:

(1) (Texas) Uranium Surface Mining and Reclamation Act, (V.T.C.A., Natural Resources, subsection 131, et.seq.);

(2) (Texas) Surface Coal Mining and Reclamation Act, (V.T.C.S., Article 5920-11);

(3) (Texas) Disposal Well Act, (V.T.C.A., Water Code, subsection 27.001 et.seq.);

(4) (Texas) Water Quality Act, (V.T.C.A., Water Code subsection 26.001 et.seq.);

(5) (Texas) Nuclear and Radioactive Materials Act (also called the Texas Radiation Control Act), (V.T.C.S., Article 4590f et.seq.); and

(6) (Texas) "Comprehensive Municipal Solid Waste Management, Resource Recovery, and Conservation Act." H.B. No. 1719, May 30, 1983.

h. Local Legislation

Fort Bend County "Regulations for the Control of the Disposal of Solid Waste by Certain Means," adopted by the Commissioners' Court, recorded in the Minutes of August 28, 1978.

B. State Plan Guidelines

The Texas Department of Health approved the "Solid Waste Management Plan of Texas" in 1981.

C. Federal Jurisdictions for Solid Waste Management

Federal programs related to the environment are administered under one agency, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). EPA's area of responsibility includes programs for air, water, solid waste, pesticides, radiation, noise, toxic substances, and energy. The RCRA required the establishment of a separate "Office of Solid Waste" within EPA. Organizationally, this office has been placed under a Deputy Assistant Administrator.

EPA's administration is divided into 10 regions. Texas is within Region 6, along with New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Louisiana. EPA's Region 6 offices are in Dallas, Texas. The regional office has an Air and Hazardous Materials Division which has three branches; the Air Programs Branch, the Pesticides and Hazardous Materials Branch and the Solid Waste Branch.

D. Identification of Regions and State and Local Agencies and Responsibilities for Development and Implementation of the State Plan

Pursuant to Section 4006, RCRA, Governor Clements designated regional boundaries for municipal solid waste management in Texas. This was by a letter of proclamation dated July 13, 1979, and also announced allocation of responsibilities among state, local and regional governmental units of the state for development and implementation of municipal solid waste management plans. This original designation was amended in only one point by Governor Clements in a letter dated May 13, 1980. In this change, the Alamo Area Council of Governments was designated as regional municipal solid waste planning agency for Municipal Solid Waste Planning Region 18, in lieu of the Texas Department of Health.

The following paragraphs contain the regional boundaries, agencies, and agency responsibilities as they are designated for each listed category.

Such recommendations will be submitted to the Governor for approval.

(2) The designated regional municipal solid waste planning agencies will develop regional municipal solid waste management plans and coordinate local municipal solid waste management planning and implementation.

E. State Jurisdictions for Solid Waste Management

In Texas, primary state level solid waste management responsibility is shared by the Texas Department of Health, the Texas Department of Water Resources and the Railroad Commission of Texas. The (Texas) Solid Waste Disposal Act defines industrial and municipal solid waste. Knowledge of these definitions is essential to understanding the Department's roles. The definitions are as follows:

> -"Municipal solid waste means...solid waste resulting from or incidental to municipal, community, commercial, and recreational activities, including garbage, rubbish, ashes, street cleanings, dead animals, abandoned automobiles, and all other solid waste other than industrial solid waste."
>
> -"Industrial solid waste means...solid waste resulting from or incidental to any process of industry or manufacturing, or mining or agricultural operations."

0019

From the definition of municipal solid waste, it is clear that more is implied than just residential garbage. Thus, municipal solid waste management sites or facilities are not only those owned by municipalities, but include all facilities that handle municipal solid waste, as defined.

The state Solid Waste Disposal Act assigns the responsibility for management of municipal solid waste to the Texas Department of Health. Industrial solid waste (including agricultural waste) management responsibility is assigned to the Texas Department of Water Resources. Where municipal and industrial waste become mixed within the disposal process, primary management responsibility is assigned to the Texas Department of Health. Disposal of "Class I Industrial Waste" at a municipal solid waste management site requires the approval of the Texas Department of Health and the concurrence of the Texas Department of Water Resources.

The Texas Department of Health is to consult with the Texas Department of Water Resources concerning water quality and pollution control aspects of matters placed under its jurisdiction, while it is to consult with the Texas Air Control Board with respect to air quality and air pollution control.

The Texas Department of Water Resources is to consult with the Texas Department of Health with respect to health aspects and with the Texas Air Control Board with respect to air quality and air pollution control aspects, of matters placed under its jurisdiction.

An additional distinction is made, within the Solid Waste Disposal Act, concerning solid waste. Waste materials which result from activities associated with the exploration, development or production of oil or gas are subject to control by the Railroad Commission of Texas. In other legislative Acts, the Railroad Commission is specifically granted jurisdiction over surface coal and uranium mining operations in the state, including the disposal or disposition of surface mining wastes and processing wastes. However, the uranium mine tailings that are classified as "low-level radioactive" are also regulated by the Division of Occupational Health and Radiation Control of the Texas Department of Health, under regulations prepared under the authority of the (Texas) Nuclear and Radioactive Materials Act.

1. Texas Department of Health

The state headquarters of the Texas Department of Health are located at 1100 West 49th Street in Austin, Texas. Environmental programs are within the Bureau of Environmental Health.

To aid in administration and distribution of health-related services, the state is divided into 12 Public Health Regions. Regional headquarters are established in Canyon, Lubbock, El Paso, Abilene, Arlington, Temple, Tyler, Rosenberg, Uvalde and Harlingen. The headquarters for Region 12 (Midland) and Region 10 (Nacogdoches) are not fully or permanently established and are administered from Lubbock and Tyler, respectively.

2. Texas Department of Water Resources

In 1977, the Texas Department of Water Resources was formed as a result of a reorganization and reassignment of duties for state agencies involved in programs related to water. This reorganization affected the Texas Water Development Board, the Texas Water Quality Board and the Texas Water Rights Commission. The new Department assumed the industrial solid waste management responsibilities of the former Water Quality Board.

The Texas Department of Water Resources has primary responsibility for programs covered by the federal Clean Water Act, underground injection program not related to oil and gas production under Section 1443(b) of the federal Safe Drinking Water Act, and RCRA programs related to industrial solid waste.

The state headquarters for this Department are located in the Stephen F. Austin Building, 1700 North Congress Avenue in Austin. The solid waste and underground injection functions are within the Permits Division.

3. Railroad Commission of Texas

The Railroad Commission of Texas was originally created to regulate railroads within the state. Over the years, its jurisdiction and responsibilities have been greatly expanded. Stated generally, the Commission's jurisdiction is in the areas of transportation, oil and gas, liquified petroleum gas, gas utilities, surface mining, and geothermal energy.

More specifically, the Commission has jurisdiction under the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (Clean Water Act) for the issuance of wastewater permits regulating discharges of wastes resulting from the development and/or production of oil and gas. Under the federal Safe Drinking Water Act, the Commission has responsibility for underground injection control programs related to production of oil and gas.

State headquarters for the Railroad Commission of Texas are at 1124 South Interstate Highway 35 in Austin.

F. Substate Jurisdiction for Municipal Solid Waste Management

1. Regional Planning Agencies and State Planning Regions

The terms "regional governments" or "regional agencies" are too broad to describe the types of agencies intended to be described here. These terms could include water or soil conservation districts, river authorities, health systems agencies, economic development districts, etc. The agencies intended to be described here are those authorized by legislation in 1965. (The legislation and its amendments are cited as Article 1011m, V.T.C.S.) "Regional Planning Commissions". is the name given to regional planning agencies by the enabling Act. Their area of jurisdiction is their "planning region" and its basic geographical unit is the county. In Texas, these planning regions have officially been designated by the Governor as the agencies responsible for municipal solid waste management planning at the regional level and for coordination of planning and implementation at the local level.

a. Municipal Solid Waste Planning Regions (MSWPR)

In Texas, regional planning agencies are referred to variously as "regional councils," "planning councils," "councils of governments"(or COG's), "development councils," and "associations of governments." These organizations are primarily engaged in regional planning and the promotion of intergovernmental cooperation among member local governments. Typically, membership within the organizations include counties and other political units within those counties such as school districts, cities, and special districts. Membership is voluntary, therefore, Fort Bend County has elected to be a member of HGAC, Region 16.

b. State Planning Regions

Each regional planning agency previously discussed is responsible for a geographical jurisdiction made up of counties and called a "state planning region." The original regions were delineated by the Governor in 1968, and have been adjusted during subsequent biennial reviews. The regions form the framework for the coordination of functional planning and as a guide to federal and state agencies in the delivery of services. This includes the state program for municipal solid waste management.

The state planning region is the basic geographical unit, for planning and statistical purposes, used in this plan volume. Figure 1 shows the 24 state planning regions and the regional planning agencies responsible for each region.

(It should be noted that the metropolitan area of Texarkana reaches into the State of Arkansas and that the Arkansas County of Miller is considered a part of the Ark-Tex Council of Governments region for regional and local planning purposes. It is not included, for statistical purposes, in this plan volume.) The smallest geographical planning regions are the Texoma Regional Planning Commission and the Southeast Texas Regional Planning Commission, each with three counties. The largest geographical planning region is the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission with 25 counties.

2. Special Districts and Authorities

For the purpose of this discussion special districts and authorities are considered as one type of substate special purpose unit of government which may have authority or responsibility in the area of municipal solid waste management. Most do not either have or choose to exercise this authority. They include entities like flood control districts, river authorities, soil or water conservation districts, school districts, hospital districts, etc. These districts are governmental entities created to provide a specific service in a define area. They can range in size from less than a county to a multi-county area. They are the fastest growing form of local government in the state and outnumber municipalities more than three to one.

III. EXISTING CONDITIONS

A. Physical Conditions

The existing physical conditions, as presented here, will be those conditions which affect the present municipal solid waste management system in Fort Bend County. Most municipal solid waste is disposed by sanitary landfill. The physical conditions affecting landfills are:

1. Climate
   a. Temperature
   b. Precipitation
   c. Evapotranspiration
2. Geology and Hydrology
   a. Soils
   b. Aquifers and Groundwater
3. Geography
   a. Brazos River Basin, San Bernard River Basin
   b. Floodplains
   c. Land use
   d. Wetlands
   e. Vegetation
   f. Wildlife Resources

0019

These physical conditions also affect the collection and processing phases of the management system. It is expected that they will have a limited effect on the development of resource recovery as a viable method of solid waste disposal.

1. Climate

Fort Bend County lies in the Southern portion of the temperate zone and climate borders on sub-tropical.

a. Temperature

Temperature does not normally cause serious problems with solid waste management in Fort Bend County. Weather is relatively mild, without extended periods of frozen ground which would make landfilling difficult. During the year temperatures are relatively warm to hot, which creates the need for regular covering of waste, to preclude formation of decomposition odors and proliferation of vectors. Winters are mild and result in vegetation growth and disposal year around.

Record temperatures have ranged from a (February) low of 10°F to a (August) high of +108°F.

b. Precipitation

Average yearly rainfall is about 44" and a maximum 2" to 4" per hour. It can have a strong effect on the solid waste management system; both directly and indirectly. The direct effect will be in the day-to-day activities of collection and disposal, such as interference with landfill excavation and vehicular traffic within the landfill. Higher rainfall would indirectly affect the system by increasing problems with vector control and increasing the possibility of surface water and groundwater contamination.

Because of the importance of land disposal to solid waste management in Fort Bend County it is important to consider the potential for groundwater and surface water contamination from leachate. Leachate is the liquid which has percolated through solid waste and has dissolved materials extracted from the solid waste. The more water that percolates through the solid waste, the more potential there is for pollutants to leach out. Proper sanitary landfill siting will often preclude sites where ground or surface water would flow through the wastes. Where siting restrictions and other considerations prohibit elimination of the potential for groundwater and surface water contamination, engineering design and proper operation of a site can eliminate or minimize the percolation of moisture through the solid waste. Factors affecting percolation and thus formation of leachate are important in evaluating the site design. These factors include the infiltration fraction of precipitation. This is dependent upon surface conditions and climatological characteristics of the location of the site.

Evapotranspiration (the combined evaporation from the plant and soil surfaces and transpiration from plants), represents the trasnport of water from the earth back to the atmosphere. The soil moisture storage capacity represents water which can be held in the soil. Surface runoff represents water which flows directly off an area.

Evapotranspiration is generally greater in areas with more winds, higher temperatures, more vegetation and lower humidity. Areas with higher evapotranspiration, soils having good holding capacity, and vegetation that has higher transpiration rates, reduct the overall effects of precipitation. In West Texas, there is a net precipitation loss and in Fort Bend County, there is a precipitation surplus.

In general, each site must be evaluated individually. The Texas Department of Health's "Municipal Solid Waste Management Regulations" prescribe the procedures for making leachate formation determination and the design requirements for ground and surface water protection.

2. Geology and Hydrology

Texas is not prone to having earthquakes and therefore, earthquakes do not create a problem for landfilling of municipal solid waste. There are, however, many geologic faults in the earth. These have to be considered in determining proper landfill locations.

Soils, aquifiers, groundwater, river basins, vegetation, and terrain are all related directly to geology and climate.

a. Soils

The geology of a region determines the types of soils existing in the region. Although geology and soils are factors to be considered in landfill siting, they are site-specific issues and can only be addressed in a general way in this plan.

The principle characteristic of soil to be considered is soil permeability. Landfills may be placed in poor (highly permeable) soils when special precautions are taken; like placement of an impermeable membrane or clay liner around landfill trenches. The cover of the landfill can also be made impermeable. This creates an artificial, yet secure, capsule to contain solid waste and prevent environmental pollution. The Texas Department of Health has adopted solid waste management regulations that establish requirements for liners and cover.

b. Aquifers and Groundwater

Aquifers underlie the surface area. This water has been a principle source for municipal supply and crop irrigation.

An item or particular significance in the last decade has been land subsidence caused by withdrawal of subsurface water. This is occurring in the area immediately southeast of Houston, due to increasing urbanization and industrialization and the resulting increase in demands for subsurface water.

The location of aquifers and the possible effect of land disposal of solid waste are considered in the landfill site selection and approval process. The Texas Department of Health has adopted solid waste management regulations that are designed to protect the groundwater and surface water of the state.

(1) Groundwater

There are useable groundwater sources other than the recognized aquifers. These have local importance to to small communities and rural residences as a source of public drinking water, water for stock and irrigation. It is the policy of the Texas Department of Health that all solid waste facilities be so located, designed and operated so as not to contaminate the groundwater, i.e., protect existing water quality from deterioration. Depth to groundwater is an important consideration in site location. Location of wells and the current uses of groundwater and water quality are other considerations in determining the effect of site location in the design for groundwater protection.

It is important that floodplains be considered in solid waste facility siting and design. The Texas Department of Health's "Municipal Solid Waste Management Regulations" contain standards that are designed to provide for safe disposal of solid waste in floodplains.

c. Land Use

See Figure 3 for general land use in the County.

d. Wetlands

The state's coastal and inland wetlands are vital natural resources of hydrological, ecological and social importance. Wetlands provide natural flood and storm control, sediment and erosion control, recharge of aquifers, natural purification of waters and flow stabilization of the waterways. Wetlands produce large quantities of nutrients that support a complex ecosystem. Wetlands support fish, shellfish, mammals, waterfowl and other wildlife. Wetlands are also used in the production of food and timber. They also support recreational activities.

The location of landfills in wetlands, where there is no viable alternative, must consider the preservation of the wetlands where they support an ecosystem and the need to contain the waste within the site and prevent seepage of contaminants. One must also consider that wetlands are associated with floodplains.

Wetlands exist in most areas of the County.

e. Vegetation

Agricultural wastes are considered as industrial wastes. However, vegetable and plant wastes, collected as a part of the municipal solid waste stream, are considered as municipal garbage and are the management responsibility of the Texas Department of Health. Typically, plant materials or vegetation is considered to be about 14 percent of the municipal waste stream. This being assumed, then Fort Bend County generates about 17,374 tons of vegetation wastes per year, not including that generated in the agricultural sector.

In its "Municipal Solid Waste Management Regulations," the Texas Department of Health has provided for a type of disposal site which accepts only brush and construction-demolition wastes. These wastes are particularly bulky and are not polluting when proper precautions are taken. They are permitted to be covered less frequently than putrescible wastes.

Probably the most important items to mention about vegetation, related to municipal solid waste disposal in Fort Bend County, is that it has plenty of rainfall and a long growing season and South Texas has mild winters and a year-round growing season. These factors contribute to a large amount of plant wastes to be disposed in these regions.

f. Wildlife Resources

Federal legislation and regulations have mandated that precautions be taken, in the siting of solid waste disposal facilities, to assure that harm does not come to endangered species of plants, fish or animals or their critical habitat. Some species are classified as "threatened." They do not have an identified critical habitat but these individual species also need to be protected. The Texas Department of Health's "Municipal Solid Waste Management Regulations" provide for the protection of endangered species in siting solid waste management facilities.

In Fort Bend County there are four species that have been designated as "endangered." (1) The American Alligator; (2) The Red Wolf; (3) The Brown Pelican; (4) The Peregrine Falcon. The migrant Loggerhead Shrike is under study and should be considered. Each locality considered for any type waste disposal facility should take in consideration the above mentioned species.

B. Socioeconomic Conditions

The socioeconomic conditions discussed will include:

1. Population

Population, urbanization and income all directly affect the amount of municipal solid waste generated. The economic base affects the municipal waste stream indirectly because of the effect it has on population, urbanization and income. Its direct effect will be upon the "types" of waste generated, i.e., agricultural, industrial, commercial, institutional, residential, etc. Urbanization restricts the available area for land disposal and the acceptance of this practice by the public.

1. Population

Population growth or decrease is determined by the net migration (in-migration minus out-migration) and natural increase (birth minus deaths). Along with the remainder of the Texas, Fort Bend County has had a downward trend in natural increase since 1957. (This means families have fewer children than formerly was true.) However, in Fort Bend County, there are still more people being born every year than there are people who die. Since 1967, the decrease in births in Fort Bend County has been greatly offset by the number of poeple moving into the County; about 5,200 people per year. This has resulted in a population increase of 152.0 percent between 1970 and 1980, or 52,314 to 130,846. See Figure 4 for population distribution.

C. Fort Bend County Solid Waste Management System

1. Programs

The County Engineering Department provides solid waste management activities that include:

0019

-Site evaluation for permit applications to include engineering review of site conditions and planned improvements;

-Compliance monitoring, surveillance and inspection of solid waste activities to include hazardous waste activities;

-Coordination of health related review and inspection of industrial solid waste activities with the Texas Department of Water Resources;

-Provision of professional testimony at public hearings and in enforcement cases;

-Provision of technical assistance to local governments;

-Receipt and response to citizen complaints, concerns or interests;

-Coordination of all solid waste activities, to include coordination with City and County Health Departments and Districts.

a. Permits Program

The County Engineering Department operates a program to issue permits governing the operation and maintenance of sites used for storage, processing and disposal of solid waste. This permitting authority is granted in the state Solid Waste Disposal Act.

The procedure and criteria for facility permitting are adopted in the Department's "Municipal Solid Waste Management Regulations." An application process requires the applicant to submit general information and engineering and technical data concerning the facility for which a permit is proposed. Staff engineers and geologists evaluate the environmental suitability of the proposed site. Proper notice is given and a public hearing process is followed in accord with the regulations and the state Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act. After completion of the hearing process and the submission of complete testimony and evaluation, a decision on whether to permit a facility is rendered by the County Engineer and Commissioners' Court.

Most, but not all, permitted facilities are landfill operations. The regulations classify disposal facilities into six types as follows:

-Type I -- A sanitary landfill serving 5,000 or more people. Daily compaction and cover is required;

-Type II -- Sanitary landfill serving less than 1,500 persons. Compaction and cover is required at least one time in seven days.

-Type III -- An interim classification for a landfill which serves less than 1,500 persons, pending upgrading to a Type II within five years. Frequency of compaction and cover will be specified in the permit.

-Type IV -- Sanitary landfill used for disposal of brush and demolition wastes. Compaction shall be as often as necessary to minimize voids, with cover required at least monthly.

-Type V -- Solid waste processing sites, transfer stations, incinerators, resource recovery systems are examples.

-Type VI -- Includes experimental facilities or operations that involve a new or unproven method of managing or utilizing solid waste.

Sanitary landfills are evaluated according to current engineering, geological and hydrological technology and practices. Items considered include: geology and soil characteristics, groundwater and surface water, drainage, land use and zoning, access roads, etc. Operational requirements address items such as: protection of groundwater and surface water from pollution, control of decomposition gas, prevention of disease vectors, and control of other safety, health and aesthetic nuisances.

b. Surveillance and Enforcement

The County's powers to establish standards of operation and to inspect sites emanates from the state Solid Waste Disposal Act. The Act authorizes agents or employees right-of-entry for the purpose of inspecting and investigating conditions relating to solid waste management and control.

Section 8 of the Act prohibits solid waste practices or the use or operation of a site in violation of the Act, or of the rules, regulations, permits or other orders of the Department.

The Act provides for civil penalties of not less than $50 nor more than $1000 for each act of violation and for each day of violation, as the court may deem proper.

Whenever it appears that a person has violated, or is violating or threatening to violate any provision of the Act, or any rule, regulation or permit of the County, then the County may cause a civil suit to be instituted in a district court for injunctive relief; restraining the person from continuing the violation or threat of violation.

The engineer has direct responsibility for conducting inspections and providing reports to the Commissioners' Court.

c. Resource Recovery and Technical Assistance

The County is currently involved in promoting resource recovery as an alternative to the state's present methods of solid waste disposal. Technical assistance is being made available to 27 local governments in Texas through the RCRA program. They benefit from consultants provided, which have expertise in solid waste management. Considerable additional information about the resource recovery and technical assistance program is found in Sections III-F-5, IV-E and VI-A.

D. Municipal Solid Waste Data

In 1980, there were about 130,896 people, each generating 5.2 pounds of municipal solid waste each day. This would amount to a 1980 total of about 340 tons of garbage. This total does not include waste produced by industry, manufacturing, mining and agriculture, although considerable amounts of waste from these sectors do enter the municipal waste stream.

Countywide it is estimated that 15 acres of land per year is utilized for landfilling municipal waste. It is estimated that approximately 562,000 acres are in Fort Bend County, of which 320,000 is in agriculture. The remaining is in woods, brush, cities or subdivision.

The analysis of the amounts of municipal solid waste being generated in each planning region indicated there is a high correlation between the amount of solid waste reported as entering a processing or disposal site and socioeconomic factors such as population density (or degree of urbanization), and per capita income. This seems likely since high population density should contribute to a more efficient and effective solid waste collection system, resulting in a higher proportion of solid waste generated which actually goes into processing or disposal sites. In addition, several independent studies in parts of the nation have indicated that people with higher incomes purchase more and discard more waste, which then enters the waste stream. This is only generally the case; however, it is not always true.

E. Financing Practices

The County is authorized by law to operate a solid waste management system as a separate utility in their jurisdictions and charge fees for its use. Cities and counties are authorized to sell revenue bonds and general obligation bonds to equip and maintain a solid waste management system. All have the power of taxation. General obligation bonds may be sold if such is approved by a majority of those voting in a bond election.

Financing available to local governments for solid waste management programs include:

Federal Financial Assistance

The Department of Housing and Urban Development administers grants under the Urban Development Action Grant Program including funds for solid waste disposal activities.

The Farmers Home Administration administers loans and grants under its water and waste disposal program, including funds for sanitary landfills, incinerators and necessary equipment such as garbage trucks.

The Environmental Protection Agency administers grants under the "President's Urban Policy" program for municipal solid waste resource recovery facility studies. Resource recovery implementation funds are available for projects involving co-disposal of sewage sludge and municipal solid waste, as a joint environmental grant under the construction grants program for wastewater treatment facilities.

The Department of Energy administers municipal solid waste grants under the feasibility studies program for alternative fuels production.

State Financial Assistance

The Texas Energy and Natural Resources Advisory Council administers grants under the Texas Energy Development Fund with expected future consideration given to municipal solid waste as an energy source.

F. Solid Waste Management Systems

1. Sanitary Landfill

A sanitary landfill is an effective solid waste management system. A sanitary landfill is a well-controlled and truly sanitary method of disposal of solid wastes on land. It consists of four basic operations: (1) The solid waste is deposited in a controlled manner in a prepared portion of the site; (2) The solid waste is spread and compacted in thin layers; (3) The solid waste is covered regularly with a layer of earth; and (4) The cover of material is compacted. These operations usually occur daily or more often, as necessary, depending upon the climate and the type of waste being disposed. Where climatic conditions will result in percolation of precipitation through the landfill, it must have an impermeable barrier between its contents and the surrounding soil to prevent the escape of leachate from the site.

The Texas Department of Health's "Municipal Solid Waste Management Regulations" provide requirements for design, construction and operation of landfills to protect the health and the environment.

Siting of landfills have become a major obstacle to their continued use. Although sanitary landfilling is an efficient and cost-effective means of waste disposal, it loses much of its cost-effectiveness when located great distances from the waste source. This is becoming more of a reality as urbanization spreads outward from our cities.

Communities now operating landfills with less than five years site life should start immediately to consider alternatives or start a process of selecting a new site. Sites should be selected based on criteria which will minimize environmental and social impacts on the community and that will be supported by elected officials.

2. Countywide Systems

The County "Solid Waste Control Act", Article 4477-8, V.T.C.S., empowers counties to provide solid waste services; to contract for such services; and acquire, improve, construct, maintain, etc., solid waste disposal systems. The Act also provides a number of other powers to the county for solid waste management including the power of eminent domain, and the authority to offer solid waste service, require the use of such service and charge a fee for the service.

County solid waste disposal system operates a disposal site for municipal solid waste from county residents, recreational areas, institutions and businesses. Existing landfill 2 miles Southwest of Rosenberg and its proposed extension is operated under Permit #1048 and application for permit #1554.

Any new waste disposal facilities proposed after adoption of this plan shall make application through the County before a permit can be issued.

3. Transfer

Distances to new landfill locations are increasing due to increased difficulties of siting within or near urban areas. These greater distances create lost man-hours, increased fuel use, increased equipment wear and a general overall collection and disposal inefficiency. This situation can be alleviated by using transfer stations.

A transfer station is a facility where collected municipal waste may be consolidated from several small collection vehicles and placed into a large vehicle for delivery to the ultimate disposal location. Transfer stations are generally categorized as "direct hopper" or "tipping floor" types of facilities.

The direct hopper type incorporates direct dumping of the waste from collection vehicles into a hopper or chute that guides the waste by gravity into the transfer vehicle. Compaction of this material is normally done by a stationary hydraulic ram forging its way into the refuse from one end of the trailer. This hydraulic equipment is part of the station unit.

The tipping floor type incorporates a floor where the incoming waste is deposited. This material is then shoved by a skip loading vehicle to hoppers and into the transfer vehicles.

Both types of stations are quite successful and have applications best suited for their capabilities.

4. Volume Reduction

Volume reduction is the processing of solid waste to reduce the amount of space required for waste burial. Available landfill space is becoming very difficult to acquire because of public opposition to site locations, economics, and increased regulation. Several proven methods of volume reduction are as follows:

Compaction - Municipal solid waste is very loose and contains large amounts of empty spaceper cubic yard of material. Much waste is composed of discarded containers and light materials that consume unnecessary space. By using compaction machines such as hydraulic mashers in collection vehicles, waste is reduced from approximately 100 pounds per cubic yard of space to approximately 400 pounds per cubic yard. Transfer stations, used in long-haul situations, compress waste to an even greater rate of 700 to 800 pounds per cubic yard. The ultimate disposal point or landfill may go a step further in compaction by using a compactor or heavy machine to pass over the dumped waste and remove excess voids.

Bailing - This is a form of compaction; however, it must be given separate consideration because of the high degree of compaction and the extra efficiency in disposal at the landfill. A baler is used to exert hydraulic force on the solid waste and form it into bales similar to cotton or hay bales. These balers may compress solid waste to 2000 pounds per cubic yard, increasing the amount of space in a landfill over normal compression systems by 2 to 3 times. The placing of bales in a disposal site is similar to that of stacking building blocks and utilizes every cubic foot of available space. Efficiency in a landfill is attained when space is used to the maximum. Vector problems are minimized, since places for harboring and access to putrescibles are restricted.

Shredding - In this process, solid waste goes through a grinding or shredding procedure to produce a standard particle-sized material and eliminate voids. Shredded material increases the weight per cubic yard of solid waste from a normal of 100 pounds to a new ratio of 200 pounds. This material may be compacted more readily for further volume reduction efficiency. Experiments are underway which are testing the effects of placing shredded material on the land for utilization as a fertilizer or in uncovered landfills, for economic savings. Shredded solid waste does not attract vectors as readily as does unshredded waste. Shredding may also be a preliminary step to resource recovery for the production of a refuse-derived fuel, if this type of processing is anticipated for the future. Any solid waste used in this manner greatly reduces the amount of landfill space required and produces an alternate fuel to our depleting fossil fuel reserves.

Incineration - This method of volume reduction produces the greatest amount of reduction per cubic yard of space for the methods of volume reduction previously discussed. A 90% to 95% reduction of solid waste volume is attained through incineration. The residue, or ash, is practically inert and creates an economical landfill operation not only with its large space savings but also its resistance to vectors.

5. Resource Recovery

a. General

The term "resource recovery" means the recovery of materials or energy from solid waste. A resource recovery system is a solid waste management system which provides for collection, separation, recycling and recovery of solid waste materials or energy and includes disposal of nonrecoverable residue.

In the past, there has been no activity in resource recovery in the county. Locally, citizen groups and government officials have instituted recycling operations, source separation, and recovery projects involving plant equipment and a higher technology system. The lack of widespread activity in developing resource recovery systems stems from past adverse experiences by local governments, both in state and out of state, and the general availablilty of land for disposal of our solid waste.

There are several conditions that are, or will be, operative during the 1980's that will encourage communities to implement resource recovery systems. These include:

(1) Increased problems and opposition in siting landfills;

(2) Implementation of more stringent regulations on landfilling;

(3) Increased urbanization forcing available landfills further from the source of the waste;

(4) Increased value to solid waste as a fuel source;

(5) General citizen acceptance of resource recovery as an alternative to landfilling; and

(6) Improvement in resource recovery technology.

Fort Bend County has been active in promoting resource recovery. Bid proposals were submitted to the Commissioners' Court in May, 1983 for various methods of waste recovery. Bid proposals for the operation of the existing Klauke Road landfill were received June 6 with a stipulation that allowed the County go go into contract with a private recovery business during the operation.

Resource recovery systems cover a wide range of technology. It can include a simple operation such as turning in aluminum beverage containers to a recycling point or it can involve a high technology program of mechanically separating reuseable metal and glass components and preparing organic materials to be used as a fuel in a heat recovery system.

c. Description of Technologies

(1) Source Separation and Recycling

Source separation is the technique of recovering materials from the solid waste stream at the "source". This activity reduces the amount of waste to be disposed and provides recovery of valuable materials before they become a part of the waste stream.

This system requires separation of the waste into a marketable fraction by the generator of the waste. Generally, such a system provides recoverable material in a pure state before it is mixed with other waste. Through this system of recovery, products can be obtained that provide a higher market value. Source separation can:

(a) Separate paper products into newsprint, corrugated, office paper and magazines;

(b) Separate glass products into clear and colored components; and

(c) Provide metal products by type of metal, i.e., aluminum, ferrous and others.

This requires cooperation on the part of the generator, usually householders. Wholesalers, distributors and retailers often provide source separation of marketable products when it is economically feasible to do so. For instance, most large retailers have a process for reclaiming corrugated containers.

When markets are high, many organizations such as Scouts, community and church groups and individuals use collection and sale of recyclable material as a source of revenue. Because of the recent increase in value of recycled aluminum and the encouragement of the users of aluminum by the beverage industry, there has been a noticeable increase in recycling of these products.

An organized system of source separation by a community can consist of two basic processes and variations thereof. These are: (1) Operation of recycling centers where the product is delivered to a point by the generator, and (2) Material separation at the source with collection provided by the local government.

The success of this system depends on participation by the citizens, either on a voluntary basis or through ordinances adopted by the community, and the economics of the system. Separate collections are an added expense and delivery to a recycling center by the generator also represents an expense, though not chargeable to the governmental unit. A further deterrent to the success of recycling and source separating is the fluctuating market for recovered products. Voluntary participation by citizens depends in a large measure on gaining support through public information programs, developing pride in community sponsored projects and offering incentives for participation. It has also been suggested that disincentives, such as higher collection fees, be charged for collecting mixed waste.

The City of West University Place in Harris County provides a multi-material source separation collection system. The city, city a 14,000 population, is primarily a residential community. It bagan a source separation pick-up of materials in 1973.

This is a voluntary participation program with approximately 60% of the residents participating. Current estimates of annual amount of waste collected and the revenues derived from the waste is as follows:

Paper	1250 tons
Glass	240 tons
Ferrous metals	Not Active

Aluminum	2 tons
Revenue	Gross $16,000
	Net $ 5,000 (estimated)

(2) Methane Recovery from Landfills

The recovery of methane from landfills depends on the amount generated and current demand. At this time the size of the landfills in this county and low demand makes it feasibley uneconomical. This is not to say a detailed study of a particular site may prove otherwise.

Two main options exist for the utilization of the landfill gas. It can sometimes be used essentially "as is", with only some dehydration and compression, for applications such as the direct firing of boilers and the generation of electricity. At other times, it can be injected into natural gas pipelines after upgrading by removing some or most of the carbon dioxide.

Removing of methane from landfills is feasible but practical engineering considerations may limit production. The practical engineering problems occur both in the collection and refining.

0019 6100

The rate of gas recovery from operating or recently closed landfills ranges from a low of 0.02 cubic feet of methane per year per pound of refuse (40 cubic feet per year per ton), to a high of 0.12 cubic feet per year per pound (240 cubic feet per year per ton).

Recovery of methane from a landfill is mainly a function of well layout and design and quality of cover material. However, there is a potential for increased gas production and improved recovery from landfills by the use of the "controlled landfill" concept.

(3) Waterwell Incineration

Direct combustion of raw municipal solid waste for energy is now being practiced in this country and has been in use in Europe and Japan for several years. Refractory furnace tachnology has been replaced by waterwall combustion for most heat recovery systems.

Steam recovery from such systems can be used in the generation of electricity and used as process steam in industry. Incineration reduces the amount of refuse to be disposed. In some cases the volume may be reduced by 97%. Mass burning of waste in waterwall incinerators has gained favorable acceptance for disposal of large volumes of solid waste. Because this system does not rely on front end processing equipment, there are fewer mechanical problems. Bulk items are removed from the waste before it is incinerated. Ferrous metals can be reclaimed from the ash by a magnetic recovery system, but are less valuable than front end recovery.

With recent improvements in air pollution control devices, incineration of waste today is more acceptable than it was a decade ago. Revenue from incineration includes the sale of steam and credits for reduction of landfill operations.

(4) Modular Incinerators

Small-scale package incinerators, with a heat recovery module, represent a new technology in their municipal applications and offer the prospect of energy recovery from solid waste to relatively small communities. This concept has been employed in other states to provide either all or part of the steam requirements for local industries. Modular incinerators are a sound means for communities with a population of 16,000-100,000, to dispose of their solid waste. When used in conjunction with either recycling or energy recovery, it opens up markets and further waste reductions to these communities. Large communities may use small units in strategic areas of the city or combine a number of modular units in one area.

Recently constructed incinerators of this type use a two chamber incinerator. In the lower chamber, solid waste is combusted under a starved air condition. Hot gases from this combustion undergoes complete combustion in a second chamber. A heat exchanger generates steam from the second combustion.

These units reduce the solid waste volume by 90%. Thus, revenue can be derived both from the sale of steam and credits to the landfill operations, as in waterwall incineration.

(5) Refuse Derived Fuels

Mechanical separation processes under development and application in the U.S. include two broad types, loosely termed "dry" and "wet". The "dry" process utilizes shredding (or milling) for size reduction of raw refuse, followed typically by some form of air classification to separation the particle into a light (primarily combustible organics) and a heavy (primarily noncombustible inorganics and hard to burn organic pieces) materials stream. The light fraction, without further processing, has generally come to be known as "RDF" (Refuse Derived Fuel) or, more specifically, as "fluff RDF." Processed further by physical or chemical means, it can become "densified RDF" (dRDF) or "dust RDF," according to current terminology. Current research is also exploring the impact of placing air classification systems ahead of the shredders to minimize shredder damage and down time.

Densified RDF is produced by pelletizing, briquetting, or extruding fluff RDF and is particularly adapted for furnaces where fuels are burned on grates rather than in suspension. The costs, handling characteristics and firing ability will be evaluated in on-going projects. The primary disadvantage of this form of fuel is its high cost due to increased processing effort.

After adding an embrittling chemical, coarsely shredded waste is pulverized to a dust-like consistency. Dust RDF has a higher BTU content than fluff RDF (7500 to 8000 BTU/pound versus 500 BTU/pound); it also has greater density and homegeneity. It may also be capable of mixing and direct co-firing with conventional fuel oils. However, production costs are expected to exceed those for fluff RDF since more processing is required, and the dust-like composition may necessitate special handling to minimize the dangers of an explosion. Although dust RDF has superior combustion properties to fluff RDF, the production costs are likely to be greater than for fluff RDF. Special care in handling and storage is necessary to minimize the danger of explosions.

The "wet" mechanical separation process utilizes hydropulping technology adopted from the pulp and paper industry to reduce the raw waste to more uniform size and consistency, followed by a centrifugal, cyclone process for separating the pulped mass into light and heavy fractions. Future applications are planned primarily for energy recovery with the fuel product now coming to be known as "wet RDF". Unlike other RDF, however, wet RDF is likely to be burned as the sole fuel for special on-site boilers rather than as a supplementary fuel in existing boilers.

G. Municipal Sludge

Sludges from publicly owned wastewater treatment plants (POTW) and water supply treatment plants are a municipal solid waste as established by definition under the state Solid Waste Disposal Act.

In Fort Bend County, there are approximately 50 publicly owned wastewater treatment plants that generate an estimated 7,000 tons of dry sludge each year.

Currently, sludges are disposed by several methods. Most sludges are disposed at sanitary landfills or by land spreading. Wastewater treatment plants often have an active giveaway program or offer dried sludge for sale for soil conditioning and enrichment. Incineration is also practiced as a method of disposal.

The Texas Department of Health's "Municipal Solid Waste Management Regulations" require that all municipal solid waste landfills and land treatment sites using municipal solid waste, operate under a permit issued by the Department. A permit to land spread wastewater treatment plant sludges is not required where only sludges are disposed. However, Department regulations do establish standards for land spreading practices. These require that land spreading of sludges be controlled where a food chain crop is involved. Limits are established for trace metal content. The regulations for hazardous waste require that sludges that exceed certain toxic values be controlled as a hazardous waste.

The Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA), the Clean Water Act (CWA), and federal regulations published under these Acts have requirements for sludge disposal. Section 4004, RCRA, establishes that the state plan shall contain a requirement that solid waste shall be utilized for resource recovery, disposed in sanitary landfills or otherwise disposed in an environmentally sound manner. (Land spreading is a "sanitary landfill" within the meaning contained in RCRA, Section 4004.)

Section 405, CWA, requires a permit be issued under Section 402 of the Act, for sludge disposal when such disposal would result in pollutants entering navigable waters.

There is little recorded data in the County on the volume of disposed sludges, the location and type of final disposition, problem identification and risk assessment.

The TDWR has regulatory control of the operation of wastewater treatment plants requiring permits under Section 402 of the CWA. The Texas Department of Health has regulatory authority for the disposition of the sludges produced at these plants under the state Solid Waste Disposal Act. The Texas Department of Health is also the implementing authority for RCRA requirements related to municipal solid waste.

The Texas Department of Health has no special requirements for disposal of sludges from water supply treatment plants other than the overall requirement for their safe collection, handling, processing, storage and disposal as a solid waste.

Wastewater treatment plant sludges have recovery values as fertilizer, soil conditioner, and as an energy source. Dried sludge can be sold locally for horticulture or to fertilizer manufacturers. It can be used in compost to provide both fertilizer and soil conditioner. Sludge can be treated separately or together with other solid waste in digesters for methane gas production. Heat recovery through incineration is a viable method of deriving energy from sludge. Such recovery systems are especially desirable and may be more economical where sludge is co-disposed with other municipal solid wastes.

(6) Pyrolysis

Pyrolysis is the physical and chemical decomposition of organic matter through the application of heat in an oxygen-deficient atmosphere. The organic fraction of municipal solid waste is broken down, primarily into hydrogen, carbon monoxide, methane, and carbon dioxide. By controlling operating parameters, such as temperature, pressure, residence time, and catalytic action, it is possible to control the nature and composition of resulting products. Various pyrolysis process designs have been developed to derive gaseous and liquid fuels from municipal refuse. Pyrolysis is largely in a developmental status.

Pyrolysis requires a higher capital investment than landfill or composting, although it is comparable in cost to incineration. The quality of the gas produced from this system precludes its use as a gas turbine fuel without further processing to remove impurities, and its low heat content requires that it be used close to the source of production.

(7) Bioconversion

Bioconversion is the alteration of organic waste through the action of a living organism, such as a fungus, yeast, or bacterium. Landfills, for example, anaerobically digest the cellulose content of the fill to produce methane. Methane recovery from landfills is, in a sense, an afterthought to the disposal process. Bioconversion technologies developed specifically to maximize energy conversion include anaerobic digestion in reactors to produce methane, hydrolysis followed by anaerobic digestion to produce methane, and hydrolysis followed by fermentation to produce ethyl alcohol. In addition to the manufacture of methane and ethanol from cellulosic wastes, it is possible to produce glucose for chemical feed stocks, and protein for animal consumption.

Since the micro-organisms in anaerobic decomposition attack the material from some point on the surface, the size of the decomposable material is directly proportional to the decomposition. Therefore, the surface area per unit volume must be maximized. The material must be finely ground which adds to the expense of the process.

(8) Other Systems

There are other systems fro recovery of energy from solid waste, to include a conversion system which utilizes a fluidized-bed combustion. Gas from this combustion operates gas turbines.

Worthy of mention, although not an energy recovery system as normally thought of, is the use of solid waste for composting. This is a viable means for the homeowner to reduce the amount of waste going to landfills. The correct composting of leaves and grass clippings by the homeowner would reduce the collection effort and extend the life of landfills.

A compost system for processing of municipal waste is another method of disposal.

IV. FUTURE CONDITIONS

A. Physical Conditions

1. Climate

It will be impossible to forecast, with any assurance of correctness, any changes in climate. Therefore, the continuation of existing or "average" conditions will be assumed for temperature, precipitation and evapotranspiration.

2. Geology and Hydrology

Normally, landfill site selection criteria will include consideration of soil suitability. Soils with low permeability are naturally suitable for landfilling and require little or no treatment or special handling during the landfill process. This will result in lower waste disposal costs than soil that is not naturally suitable. Soil amendments and special handling, to reduce permeability, can often be used effectively where naturally suitable soils are not available. This will also increase landfill operation expense. Though the landfill costs will continue to increase, in nearly all instances, the short-term costs for landfilling will continue to be less than the cost for alternate methods of disposal.

Requirements within the "Municipal Solid Waste Management Regulations" accommodate the preservation and protection of certain physical conditions or natural resources, while siting solid waste processing or disposal facilities. Aquifers, surface water, groundwater, and wetlands are to be protected from any pollution by the facilities. Landfills will not be located in identified wetlands without a permit from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Landfills are not permitted within or below the 100-year floodplain unless the site design will prevent washouts or significant raising or restriction of the 100-year flood level. Prior approval, for such a site, is also required from the Texas Department of Water Resources before it can be constructed.

Discussion concerning preservation of wildlife resources is found in Section III-A-3-f. Future siting of solid waste facilities must consider protection of endangered and threatened species of plants, fish and animals. Section VI-A discusses some of the actions that will be taken to protect these species. They include the coordination of site locations, where necessary, with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. When it appears that a proposed site will have a potential for creating an adverse impact upon an endangered species, a biological assessment will be made in coordination with the Fish and Wilklife Service of the U.S. Department of the Interior. Species may be added or deleted from the identified endangered or threatened list, as the need arises.

B. Socioeconomic Conditions

1. Population

During the period from 1980-1986 and beyond, every planning region in Texas is expected to increase in population. The region with the fastest growth rate is expected to be Municipal Solid Waste Planning Region 12 (the Capital Area Planning Council region containing the Austin Standard Metropolitan Area), with a growth rate averaging about 15 percent each 5-year period.

Table 1 contains estimates concerning population, population density and rate of growth for each of the 24 planning regions from 1970-1990.

C. Municipal Solid Waste Data

Existing conditions concerning municipal solid waste data were discussed in Section III-D. Present and future estimates of population for each planning regions were related in Section IV-B-1.

It is estimated that the County ~~will~~ produced 124,100 tons of municipal solid waste in 1980. This is expected to increase each year to 267,300 tons in 1990. The statewide per capita municipal solid waste generation rate has previously been stated as 5.2 pounds per person per day. This translates to an amount equal to approximately one ton (2000 pounds) per person each year.

D. Resource Recovery

In 1980, more than 26 local governments in Texas were involved in studies of resource recovery feasibility. The studies included "high technology" conversion of solid waste to energy, as well as "low technology" volume reduction or material recovery.

Tarrant County (including Fort Worth and Arlington), Houston, and Waco are examples of public entities considering high technology waste-to-energy projects. Tarrant County contemplates a project which will convert 1400 tons of solid waste per day to steam and electricity using mass burning and waterwall incinerators. 1985 is the target date for the completion of this project.

The Houston area project, if completed, will be a large operation using 3000 tons/day of waste for conversion to steam. It is possible this project may be in operation prior to 1986. Waco's proposed system is similar and would convert 500 tons/day to waste, to be in operation by 1985.

Projects of this type must consider several items carefully to avoid the pitfalls leading to implementation failures. Items to be considered include energy markets, financing, long-term contracting, operations and maintenance, and waste stream control and characteristics.

V. GOALS

The goals of this Solid Waste Management Plan for Fort Bend County are to manage the solid waste management system in a manner which will:

1. Safeguard the health, welfare and physical property of the people,
2. Protect the environment, and
3. Conserve material and energy resources.

These goals have been formulated from the primary federal and state Acts which address solid waste management; the federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Act and the state "Solid Waste Disposal Act". All recommendations given in this plan are an effort to accomplish the identified goals.

VI. PROBLEMS, OBJECTIVES, RECOMMENDATIONS, STANDARDS AND POLICIES

Attention is directed to several problems which are addressed in this Solid Waste Management Plan for Fort Bend County. Some of these can be listed specifically as follows:

A. Diminishing Land, Material, Energy and Wildlife Resources;

B. Inadequate Control of Hazardous Waste and Municipal Sludges;

C. Substandard Land Disposal Operations;

D. Inadequate Planning for Municipal Solid Waste Management at Regional and Local Levels;

E. Need for Improved Management of Low-Level Radioactive Waste;

F. Local Opposition to Proposed Disposal Sites;

G. Dual Systems and Divided Agency Responsibilities for Solid Waste Management; and

H. Public Apathy.

Other problems could be listed but most are interrelated with those stated. To address one will affect the others, either for advantage or disadvantage.

This section contains a statement of the problems, a discussion of each problem, objectives in dealing with the problem and recommended actions for accomplishing the objectives. The series of objectives and recommended actions applicable to each problem are concluded with a listing or statement of the policies and standards which are to bear upon the problem and its means of solution.

A. Problem - Diminishing Land, Material, Energy, and Wildlife Resources

Discussion: In 1980, the citizens of the County threw away approximately 124,000 tons of metal, wood, cloth, paper, plastic, glass, and many other products which are our natural resources. These materials are subject to be dumped upon the land or into water or buried in a landfill. About 20 acres of land per year are used for landfills in the County. Land which is physically suitable for landfill disposal is becoming rare and expensive, especially near large urban areas where most of the solid waste is generated. There has been an increase in citizen opposition to siting landfills within reasonable distances from the waste source. The solid waste manager depending on a continuing use of landfills will find it necessary to increase his haul distance. The "throw away" attitude of today is in the long-term, wasteful of our land, material and energy resources. If the energy from the County's municipal garbage was utilized, it would furnish 3-5% of our energy needs. In addition, there is potentially available noncombustible materials which may be recycled. If most of the energy and materials in municipal solid waste were utilized, the useful life of landfills would be extended by 900 percent.

Because of short-term cost advantages, landfilling will remain the primary method of municipal solid waste disposal. It may be advantageous over the long-term to begin now to practice major resource and/or energy recovery. In other technical studies, for other geographical areas, results have shown that major recovery practices or programs are not economically feasible when compared with sanitary landfills.

The determination of whether resource or energy recovery studies and implementation should be initiated should be based on considerations other than economic feasibility alone. There are advantages from reducing public opposition to land disposal and the conservation of material and energy resources. Where sanitary landfilling is not maintained in accordance with acceptable practices, resource recovery offers an alternative to solid waste disposal that can protect the health, environment and aesthetic values of our land. These cannot be measured in dollars and cents alone, but they have great intrinsic value. Many citizens are willing to pay an additional, reasonable charge each month for the privilege of receiving the advantages of recovering materials or energy from solid waste instead of throwing everything away and burying it in a landfill. Solid waste managers faced with a landfill replacement in the next five to ten years, for landfills serving 30,000 people or more, should initiate a resource recovery study. The time to complete a feasibility study and to implement a resource recovery program can easily take five years.

For someone considering entering into a resource recovery program, there are three major factors to consider. The first factor is whether there will be an adequate, dependable market for any materials or energy recovered. The second factor is whether there will be an adequate and dependable amount of raw material (solid waste) available to the recovery project during its expected project period. The third factor is whether the project can be financed. The recovery operation may be as simple as sorting aluminum cans out of garbage or as complex as burning garbage to recover energy in the form of steam. Whatever technology is used, the factors to consider will remain practically the same, with importance of the factors becoming more critical in proportion to the increase in size and complexity of the project.

The state has encouraged the recycling of waste materials, particularly paper.

In addition to material and energy resources, there is also a need to conserve wildlife resources. Increasing disruption of the natural habitat of plants, fish and animals by development of rural areas is causing some wildlife species to diminish to a point near extinction. Solid waste disposal activities are a part of the development scheme and contribute to the adverse affect to endangered and threatened species by disrupting their ecosystem.

The RCRA mandated that federal criteria for the siting of sanitary landfills be provided. EPA has promulgated criteria which provides for protection of endangered and threatened species as identified under the authority of the Endangered Species Act of 1973. The Texas Department of Health's "Municipal Solid Waste Management Regulations," of 1980, contain criteria for consideration of endangered species during proposed siting of solid waste management facilities. (See Section III-A-3-f of this volume for information on threatened and endangered species.)

Goal: Conserve Land, Material, Energy, and Wildlife Resources

Objective #1

Reduce the amount of land utilized for landfill purposes.

Recommended Actions

1. In relatively dense populated areas with multiple political jurisdictions, encourage combining of financial resources and disposal systems of those jurisdictions. Promote county involvement. Coordinate with regional planning agencies.

2. Develop local plan for solid waste management which will implement state objectives.

3. Encourage policies and activities that will reduce the amount of solid waste generated; i.e., the manufacture and use of reusable containers, the reduction of unnecessary wrappings, separation and sale of recyclable materials, use of returnable containers, etc.

4. Encourage the utilization of training, technology, and equipment which will increase the compaction ratio of solid waste being landfilled or which will accomplish ecologically sound volume reduction.

5. Maintain an effective surveillance and enforcement program.

6. Increase the depth of fill in landfills, where feasible.

Objective #2

Increase the reuse of material and development of energy resources available in municipal solid waste.

Recommended Actions

1. Identify and analyze existing state laws either dealing with resource conservation and recovery or affecting resource conservation and recovery.

2. Identify legislative or regulatory barriers which restrict resource conservation and recovery and identify legislative incentives for resource recovery programs.

3. Seek removal of legislative or regulatory barriers which restrict resource conservation and recovery.

4. Require that any applicant for a permit to operate a landfill which is to serve a population of at least 5,000 people but not more than 30,000 people must show that reasonable efforts have been made to evaluate the feasibility of volume reduction and/or resource recovery as an alternative or auxiliary to landfilling.

5. Require that any applicant for a permit to operate a landfill which is expected to serve 30,000 people or more must provide a feasibility study which is acceptable. The study must have considered and evaluated the feasibility of existing technology for volume reduction and resource recovery (including materials and energy) as an alternative or auxiliary to landfilling.

6. Require that applicants for financial assistance must have a municipal solid waste management plan for their jurisdiction.

7. Support use of funds from the Texas Energy Fund to help finance resource recovery projects.

8. Encourage state laws that will provide that the state procure items composed of the highest percentage of recovered materials practicable, consistent with maintaining competitive procurement practices.

9. Support legislation to exempt resource recovery equipment from state sales tax.

10. Support legislative studies of the use of returnable containers and beverage container deposit system.

11. Seek legislative support of a policy for the state on resource recovery.

Objective #3

Prevent distress or destruction of endangered species and their critical habitats, due to the placement of landfills.

Recommended Actions

1. Amend state regulations to provide for prohibition of placement of solid waste management facilities within the areas of critical hibitat of endangered species.

2. Amend state regulations to provide for control of placement or operation of new solid waste management facilities in a manner necessary to prevent the harassing, harming, pursuing, hunting, wounding, trapping, capturing, or collecting of endangered or threatened species.

3. Coordinate review of proposed disposal sites, within the range of endangered species, with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

4. When it appears that a proposed disposal site will have a potential for creating an adverse impact upon an endangered species, a biological assessment will be made in coordination with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

5. Where the range of a listed endangered species seriously limits the siting of solid waste facilities, seek review fo the listing by the U.S. Department of Interior. Coordinate with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Policies

1. Where resource recovery is reasonably feasible, it will receive preference over landfilling as a method of solid waste disposal.

2. Restrict or prohibit operations that will adversely impact endangered or threatened species.

3. Referendums by local governments, to determine public support for specific resource conservation and recovery proposals, will be encouraged.

1. Legislative

   a. (Federal) Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, (42 U.S.C. 3251, et.seq.)

   b. (Federal) Endangered Species Act, (16 U.S.C. 1530, et.seq.)

   c. (State) Solid Waste Disposal Act, (V.T.C.S., Art. 4477-7)

B. Problem - Substandard Land Disposal Operations

Goal: Maintain All Land Disposal Operations in Fort Bend County in a Manner that will Prevent Adverse Effects to Health and the Environment

Objective #1

Continue an active program in permitting of municipal solid waste sites. Apply new standards and evaluation procedures.

Recommended Actions

1. Process all permit applications for proposed sites as a first
